Illinois Basketball

Ubben Basketball Complex

In October 1998, Illinois moved into the state-of-the-art Richard T. Ubben Basketball Complex on the campus of the University of Illinois. This $5.5 million dollar facility is a direct result of the university's commitment to excellence in athletics. It houses not only a full-sized practice court, but its features include locker rooms for the coaches and players, a players lounge, video review room, training room and weight room. The 40,000-square-foot facility is home to everything the players need to make it through the day. After classes, players can spend time studying or using the computers in the video room. The locker room has lockers for each individual player and is adjacent to the players' lounge and video room.

When it's time to get rapped before practice, the players just walk across the hall to the fully-equipped training room which is located next to the practice court. In the area of strength and conditioning, the players have use of the weight room which has free weights, nautilus equipment, treadmills and Stairmaster. The team utilizes both the weight room at the football stadium and at the Ubben complex.

Assembly Hall

When it's time to take the game on the court, Illinois has an outstanding home in Assembly Hall. The Hall has served as home to the Fighting Illini since its construction in 1963 and last season it became even better after a multi-million dollar construction project that brought the team a new locker room, state-of-the-art training room, a dining area and a new tunnel area to accommodate network television trucks and team buses.

Illinois opened play at the Assembly Hall on March 4, 1963 with a 79-73 victory over Northwestern. Since that first game, the Illini have racked up a 373-116 mark, including a 114-34 slate in the 1990s. Since 1963,

Illinois has sold out 119 games at the Assembly Hall, which seats 16,450. Illinois set an all-time attendance record on March 9, 1996 when 16,863 fans jammed into the Hall to witness Lou Henson's final regular season game as head coach. In Lon Kruget's three seasons at Illinois the team has produced a 30-11 record at home.

In addition to hosting the Fighting Illini, the Assembly Hall also holds performances for Broadway musicals, concerts and other shows. This season Elton John, John Cougar Mellancamp, The Beach Boys and Bill Cosby are some of the scheduled performers that will take the stage at Assembly Hall.

Academics

In the fall of 1997, the Irwin Academic Center was opened on the campus of the University of Illinois. Conveniently located in the center of campus, it offers the very best in academic services to Illinois student-athletes. In addition to the academic offices, it houses study areas, an expansive computer room, and meeting rooms that over 600 student-athletes use throughout the year.

The Illini basketball coaching staff places academics at the top of the list when it comes to priorities and the results are overwhelming. In Lon Kruger's three-year tenure at Illinois, eight basketball players have earned their degree. Kruger's first graduating class included 1997 seniors Chris Gandy and Herb Caldwell, and both Brian Johnson and Jerry Hester earned their undergraduate degrees before the beginning of their senior year in 1998.

As part of the academic services department, the academic support staff members also coordinate programs that enhance the college experience and prepare each student-athlete for life after college. Some of the programs that are included are a workshop on alcoholism on college campuses, time management workshops and seminars on note taking skills and preparing for exams.

Illinois: A Leader in Academics

- Illinois is considered one of the finest academic institutions in the country. The 1998 U.S. News & World Report College Guide ranks Illinois as one of the top 50 national universities and among the top 10 public universities. Money magazine consistently ranks U of I as one of the best buys in higher education.

- Illinois freshmen complete their degree requirements at a significantly higher rate than the national average.

Academics

Lon Kruger's first UI graduates: Brian Johnson, Chris Gandy, Herb Caldwell and Jerry Hester.

- The graduation rate for students who entered the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign in 1992 on a full-time basis was 77.8 percent, which is considerably higher than the national average of 50 percent for four-year schools.

- Ninety-five percent of Illinois seniors seeking employment obtain positions within nine months of graduation; more than 40 percent do so before graduation.

- The U of I library has the largest public university collection in the world with nearly 16 million items. It's the third largest academic collection in the United States, behind Harvard and Yale.

- Illinois' college of engineering annually ranks as one of the top four nationally.

- The Grainger Engineering Library Information Center is the nation's largest engineering library.

- Seventy-five percent of Illinois students ranked between the 82nd and 99th percentiles of their high school graduating classes.

- Ten UI alumna have received the Nobel Prize and 17 have received the Pulitzer Prize.

- The University offers more than 150 majors and over 4,000 courses.

- The 1999 Fiske Guide to Colleges gives Illinois a five-star rating.

- 1999 Money magazine lists Illinois as one of the nation's best college buys.

- The 1998 U.S. News & World Report College Guide rates several of the University of Illinois curriculums in the top five nationally: College of Engineering 2nd best in the country, College of Business 5th best in the country, Accounting program 1st in the nation.

- Illinois' accounting program has ranked No. 1 in the nation for the past 17 years.

- The Dow Jones Newspaper Fund lists the U of I among an elite group of seven universities called the "journalism ivys."

- Illinois' study-abroad program offers exchanges with more than 100 foreign countries. It's the fifth largest program in the country among major universities.

- U of I's Krannert Art Museum houses the second largest art collection in the state after the Art Institute of Chicago.

- Mosaic™, the mother of all internet web browsers, was developed at Illinois' National Center for Supercomputing Applications (NCSA) in 1993.

Australia Trip

A DIARY OF AUSTRALIA

On May 15-29, the Fighting Illini men's basketball team traveled to Australia for a seven game foreign tour. Illinois emerged from the trip with a perfect 7-0 record and many more experiences to remember from a wonderful trip. In addition to the seven games, the Illini had the opportunity to sight-see and experience the culture in Melbourne, Sydney and Cairns.

The Illini departed Chicago early on May 15 and had a layover in Los Angeles before crossing the Pacific Ocean and the International Date Line en route to Australia. A travel delay pushed back the team's arrival into Sydney to Midnight, but the Sydney airport is under a curfew and does not allow flights to land after midnight. The plane was rerouted to Brisbane, on the east coast of the continent, where all passengers were provided lodging for the night. The Illini left Brisbane Monday morning and arrived in Melbourne at about 1 p.m. After getting checked in to the hotel, the team had its first practice down under.

MONDAY, MAY 17

ROBERT ARCHIBALD

Well, we finally arrived in Melbourne, but we were about 15 hours late, giving us a grand total of some 68 hours on the road. I felt bad for the guys that didn't get four seats to stretch out on during the long flight from L.A. to Sydney like some of us did. Having four seats to myself made the 14 hour flight a piece of cake, especially since I managed to sleep for the last eight hours of it. The movies were a washout with a repeat of our Chicago to L.A. movie and then two more that weren't worth staying awake to watch.

Australia is warmer than I thought it was going to be (it's winter there).

TUESDAY, MAY 18

CLEOTIS BROWN

So far so good in Melbourne. Today we went on a tour of the Old Melbourne Gaol (jail). This jail is over 100 years old and is the oldest in Melbourne. The tour guide, Bob, was very funny and informative. He told stories about certain inmates and the things that went on in the jail. The cells were very small and I do mean SMALL. The only person who would not have a hard time fitting in the cell would be Nate (Mast). There sometimes would be entire families living at the jail. It seems to me that the jails were meant more for torture than reform. One of the most famous inmates was Ned Kelly (The same Ned Kelly the restaurant is named after).

Damir Krupalija, Cleotis Brown and Frank Williams find that the cells at the Old Melbourne Gaol are a tight fit, especially for someone who is over six-feet tall.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 19

CORY BRADFORD

We took a bus tour around Melbourne and got a chance to see the beautiful city gardens and sports arenas. Melbourne is the host city for the Australian Open tennis grand slam tournament and is the second largest city in Australia. The downtown area is a lot like San Francisco with trolley cars on most of the streets.

After the bus tour of the city, we met with a university professor from Melbourne to talk about the history of that country and the political and cultural differences between the United States and Australia.

THURSDAY, MAY 20

The main stop on the sightseeing tour was the Queen Victoria Market, the largest open market in Australia. The most popular purchases were T-shirts, stuffed animals (kangaroos and koala bears), jewelry and of course, authentic Australian boomerangs.

FRIDAY, MAY 21

Today was a travel day for the Illini, moving from Melbourne to Sydney. The flight was a little over an hour and upon arriving in Sydney the team got on a bus headed for practice. The team practiced at the student recreation center at the university in Sydney. After practice the team dined at the Hard Rock Cafe. The hotel where the Illini stayed in Sydney was located in the heart of downtown, about a 10 minute walk from the harbor.

The city is beautiful with botanical gardens just a few minutes away from the hotel and the harbor is picturesque, especially under the lights at night. The Sydney Opera House, which the Illini will tour tomorrow, is in the center of the harbor. The Rocks, an area of shops and restaurants that is the oldest section of Sydney, is also on the harbor across from the Opera House.

SATURDAY, MAY 22

FRANK WILLIAMS

Today we visited the Sydney Opera House, took a boat to the zoo and played another basketball game. On our tour of the Opera House we visited all five of the theaters. All of them seated over 500 people and I never really understood why the Opera House was so famous until now.

Next we took a boat to the zoo where we saw gorillas, kangaroos and koalas. This was an exciting part of the day because I thought I'd never get a chance to see live gorillas except on television.

Finally we ended the day with another basketball game, which we won.

Overall this was another great opportunity for me to experience the real world with my teammates and coaches.

Robert Archibald, Damir Krupalija, Lucas Johnson and Nate Mast have some fun on the pier at the Sydney Opera House.

GAME 4

Illinois 95, Bankstown Bruins 73
Illini Leaders: 21 points, Sergio McClain; 13 rebounds, Damir Krupalija

SUNDAY, MAY 23

Today's venture took the Illini about 35 minutes away from Sydney to the site for the 2000 Olympic games. The team posed for photos outside the Olympic Stadium, which will seat approximately 130,000 people. After the Olympics the seating capacity will be reduced to under 100,000 seats for other events.

GAME 5

Illinois 73, Albury Bandits 71
Illini Leaders: 20 points, Damir Krupalija; 8 rebounds, Victor Chukwudebe

MONDAY, MAY 24

SERGIO McCLAIN

This was our last day in Sydney. We visited the aquarium, which was a nice trip. I saw some giant sharks, stingrays and sea turtles. Coach surprised us big-time by not telling us we were playing our game in the Olympic Village at one of the places that will be used during the Olympic games. After our game we saw the first 12 minutes of the game between the Australian and Russian National teams. It was a very physical game, even more so than Big Ten games.

GAME 6

Illinois 104, Sydney Sky 73

Illini Leaders: 22 points, Cory Bradford; 10 rebounds, Damir Krupalija

Tonight was Cory Bradford's final game on the Australian tour. He traveled back to the United States for the World University Games team tryouts. Bradford was selected to the team and helped the USA win the gold medal.

TUESDAY, MAY 25

NATE MAST

Back on another plane! Looking out the window the ocean was deep blue and green. This was the first time I've seen the Pacific Ocean.

We arrived in Cairns about noon...PARADISE!! It's been a while since I've been somewhere tropical and we took the rest of the day off. I took advantage of the relaxation and laid by the pool for a few hours.

Later on we went for dinner and walked around some of the shops. There are tons of things to buy and experience here. I think I am going to try bungee jumping one of these days. It's something I've always wanted to so. (Nate will get his chance to jump ... see Thursday, May 27).

WEDNESDAY, MAY 26

LUCAS JOHNSON

An entire day relaxing by the pool was exactly what the doctor ordered after playing six games in seven days. The tropical weather of Cairns is so enjoyable, but you do have to be careful. If you think you are too cool for sunscreen like me you'll wake up the next morning looking like Sebastian from The Little Mermaid (very red).

Apart from the UV rays frying my skin, we did have some interesting happenings go on poolside. The volleyball net in the pool was the perfect opportunity to take our competitive nature into the water. A bunch of the players, our tour guides, and even Coach Judson joined in the game. It doesn't get much better than today.

THURSDAY, MAY 27

Today both Nate Mast and Damir Krupalija started the morning off bungee jumping from a 150-foot platform in the rainforest north of Cairns. The entire team went to the Wild World Animal Park just north of Cairns where the Illini had a chance to see some of Australia's wildlife up close and personal. Several players fed the kangaroos, some got their photo taken with a koala and all of the Illini took time to check out the crocodiles, some which measure between 13 and 16 feet in length.

VICTOR CHUKWUDEBE

Tonight we played the 1998 Australian National Champions (from the ABA league), the Cairns Marlins. This team could either send the Illini home with a loss to end the amazing road trip or fall victim to the up-tempo offense and pressure defense as did the previous six teams. It was a very close game and we won in double overtime. This was truly a great way to finish our 1999 Australian basketball tour.

GAME 7

Illinois 116, Cairns Reef Marlins 112 (2OT)

Illini Leaders: 24 points, Frank Williams; 12 rebounds, Damir Krupalija

FRIDAY, MAY 28

DAMIR KRUPALIJA

One word to describe our day is, "amazing." Today we made a full day boat trip to the outer banks of the Great Barrier Reef, which is located an hour and a half north of Cairns. Upon arriving at the platform 35 miles off the shore we had a chance to explore the beauties of the coral reef and the life around it. Many interesting creatures that I had only seen before on the Discovery Channel were swimming around in the reef. Scuba diving was a highlight of the day. Now all that is left is a long trip home tomorrow.

The Illini departed Cairns at 6:15 a.m. on Saturday morning, traveled to Sydney then Los Angeles before arriving in Chicago at 7:30 p.m. Saturday night. The grand total of travel time was over 30 hours which included crossing the international date line.

Red Ribbon Campaign

The message from the Illini is to, "Put the Slam on Drugs!" Illini Head Coach Lon Kruger and the team are honorary chairpersons for the Red Ribbon Campaign, a national week-long effort promoting a drug-free community. In addition to speaking to local elementary and middle school students on the dangers of drugs, Illinois also welcomed several groups of students to their practices. Coach Kruger and the Illini are in their third year as honorary chairpersons for the Red Ribbon Campaign.

Hometown Heroes

The University of Illinois Hometown Heroes program offers student-athletes the opportunity to speak to young people regarding a variety of messages including goal setting, the importance of getting a good education, staying away from drugs and being a role model. Throughout the year student-athletes from all 19 Illinois' varsity sports have an opportunity to make a difference in the lives of the youth of Urbana-Champaign through the Hometown Heroes program.

At the Coaches vs. Cancer Classic in New York City, Illini Head Coach Lon Kruger made a $10,000 free throw for his local Coaches vs. Cancer program (above). The head coaches from the four teams in the tournament joined the president of the American Cancer Society to ring the bell to open the New York Stock Exchange for business on Nov. 10, 1998 (right).

Each of the last 23 years, the Big Ten Conference has won the national attendance title for home games. In 1998-99 the league set a new standard for conference attendance as 2,204,556 fans passed through the turnstiles for a 13,361 per game average. The Illini were in the top 25 nationally in home attendance and overall attendance.

Six times the Illini have played before a crowd of over 30,000 fans. On Dec. 6, 1997 the Illinois-Saint Louis game drew a crowd of 32,429 at the TWA Dome in St. Louis. It was the largest crowd to ever watch a basketball game in the state of Missouri and it ranks as the fifth largest crowd to ever watch a Fighting Illini game.

"Take me out to the ball game ..." On August 4, 1999 Lon Kruger moved from the playing court to the ball park. Kruger was invited by the Chicago Cubs marketing office to be a guest singer for the Seventh Inning Stretch. He sang in front of a crowded Wrigley Field and received rave reviews for his performance.

Did you know???

...Illinois has the 18th best winningest percentage all-time (.640) among Division I schools.

...Illinois has won 1357 games all-time, which ranks 19th on the Division I list.

...Illinois ranks among the top 20 schools in the country for wins in the 1940's, 1950's, and 1980's.

...In the 1980's Illinois was the only team in the nation to be a top four seed in the NCAA Tournament seven-straight years.

Illinois was a No. 1 seed in 1989, a No. 2

...Illinois has had 51 first-team All-Big Ten selections and 23 first-team All-Americans.

The Big Apple

Last year the Fighting Illini participated in the Coaches vs. Cancer tournament in New York City. While in the Big Apple the Illini got a chance to experience some of the culture of New York. The team attended a reception at the mayor's mansion and then got a look at Times Square where they ate at the All-Star Cafe. The team also got a head start to the holiday season at the Radio City Music Hall Rockettes Christmas Show.

A Special Kind of Camp

Every year hundreds of boys flock to the Lon Kruger basketball camps, but on one weekend during the summer it's not just the kids who show up. While he was coaching at Florida, Kruger began the Parent-Child Weekend Camp in the summer of 1992. He brought the concept with him to Illinois and the last three summers it's been a popular choice for parents and their children. The camp emphasizes teaching proper basketball fundamentals, while also providing quality time between the parents and kids.

Parents and children are teamed together in the basketball activities, which include games between the kids while the moms and dads watch and then the tables are switched and the kids watch as the parents run up and down the floor. Kruger also has one discussion session with the parents while the children play ball.

No matter how busy the schedule at work or home, this is a weekend that gives parents and children a chance to use basketball to draw closer to each other.

One of the most popular basketball camps is Lon Kruger's annual Parent-Child camp, held each June.

Scheduling Tough Opponents

Last season, Illinois faced a challenging non-conference schedule, along with the always rigorous Big Ten grind. According to Jeff Sagarin's ratings, the Illini played the second toughest schedule in the nation in 1998-99.

The level of competition will be just as tough this season, with 12 NCAA Tournament teams and three of last year's Final Four schools on the schedule.

Illinois kicks off the non-conference schedule with in-state opponents Western Illinois and Bradley. Next comes the much anticipated match-up with national runner-up Duke at Chicago's United Center as part of the inaugural ACC-Big Ten Challenge. Illinois then travels to Washington DC for the BB&T Classic to face Maryland, who advanced to the Sweet 16 last year. The Classic also includes Seton Hall and George Washington. Other December opponents include Texas-Pan American, Kansas State, Kansas at the United Center, the annual Braggins' Rights game versus Missouri in Saint Louis, and Bethune-Cookman and Loyola-Chicago.

Illinois' non-conference opponents produced a record of 221-144 (.605) last year. Eight of the teams produced winning records and six had 20-win seasons.

Illini News & Notes

In the Air

Everything the Illini do, they do in a first-class manner and that includes travel. Illinois charts flights for travel and because of traveling by commuter jet, the trip is shorter and the players miss a minimal amount of class time.

The 80's Belong to the Illini

Illinois was the 14th winningest program in the nation in the 1980's, posting a record of 233-90 (.721). Illinois enjoyed nine 20-win seasons and finished in the top four of the Big Ten eight times. The Illini also made eight NCAA tournament appearances during the decade, winning 11 tournament games. The success culminated in 1989, when the "Flyin' Illini" went 31-5, earned a No. 1 seed in the Midwest Region and advanced to the Final Four.

Fighting Illini in the Pros

Illinois has made a name for itself in the professional ranks. Sixty-one players have been drafted and 35 Illini have seen playing time in the NBA. John Kerr, Wally Osterkorn, and Steve Kuberski all earned championship rings in the league. The list of Fighting Illini who are currently in the NBA includes Eddie Johnson, Derek Harper, Nick Anderson, and Kendall Gill.

World University Games

Cory Bradford and Robert Archibald got some extra playing time this summer, participating in the World University Games.

Bradford came home with a gold medal after helping the United States post a perfect 8-0 record and capture the championship. He was one of three players chosen from the Big Ten (along with Scoonie Penn and Michael Redd from Ohio State) and one of two freshmen (along with Erick Barkley of St. John's) on the roster.

Bradford played in all eight games, starting three. He averaged 6.3 points a game and was the second leading three-point shooter on the team, connecting on 9-of-22 attempts for 41%.

Archibald was the leading scorer and rebounder for a Great Britain team that posted a 3-4 record in the games and finished in 12th place. He averaged 13.7 points and 5.3 rebounds per game. Archibald scored in double figures in five of the seven games, including a tournament-high of 21 points against The Netherlands.

The Mighty Big Ten

In 1999, Illinois faced more ranked conference opponents in back-to-back games than any other school in the league. The Illini played back-to-back games against nationally ranked opponents eight times.

Roster has Foreign Flavor

Three current Illini are natives of foreign countries, although each of their hometowns are listed in the United States. Victor Chukwudebe, who grew up in Springfield, is a native of Nigeria and moved to the states when he was 4-years-old. Damir Krupalija, who hails most recently from Rockford, Ill., is from Bosnia and only moved to the states in 1995. Robert Archibald spent his senior season in the states when his father's job moved the family to the St. Louis area. Archibald is originally from Scotland.

Year-in and year-out, Illinois basketball is a popular choice for the television networks. This year Illinois will appear on television 25 times in the regular season, highlighted by eight national appearances on CBS, ESPN and espn2. Illinois' national games include matchups against Duke, Indiana, Kansas, Michigan, Michigan State, Minnesota and Ohio State. In Lon Kruger's tenure, the Illini have graced television screens a total of 76 times, ranging from regional appearances across the midwest to national games on CBS, ESPN, and espn2.

Chicago and St. Louis, two of the largest media markets in the midwest, are located less than three hours from Champaign and the Illini are featured in the newspapers, and on television and radio in those cities. In addition the Illini are covered by newspapers, radio and television throughout the state of Illinois and across the midwest.

Through the official Fighting Illini website, Illinois fans across the world can keep tabs on the team during the basketball season. The radio broadcast of every game is aired live over the internet and is available by accessing the www.fightingillini.com site. Additionally, fans can listen to Coach Kruger's weekly radio show on Monday nights from 6-7 p.m. by accessing www.fightingillini.com. Also available on the athletic website are player bios, weekly releases, recaps of each game along with a boxscore and updated team and individual stats.

Campus Life

The college experience for a student-athlete is meant to encompass everything from the educational experience inside the classroom, to the experiences associated with athletics, to the extracurricular activities. It is important to finish college as a well-rounded individual with a variety of experiences and at the University of Illinois the list of opportunities both in and out of the educational realm is endless.

HOUSING

Illinois offers first-rate residence halls with good food, as well as the nation's largest fraternity and sorority system, and independent housing options. Residence halls have 12 computer centers, accessible to residents 24 hours a day. Every University residence hall room has a computer outlet directly connected to the University's "backbone," enabling you to hook up your own computer to do your homework and class projects, and access e-mail and surf the Internet from your room. The Fighting Illini freshmen live in one of 22 residence halls on campus, while the upperclassmen share apartments off campus.

SPORTS & RECREATION

The Division of Intercollegiate Athletics fields 19 sports teams and student-athletes are very active in supporting all of the teams throughout the year. There is always an opportunity for a sporting event on campus, either on week nights or on weekends. Whether it is volleyball, football, soccer games in the fall, or going to watch the Fighting Illini women's basketball team or tennis team play, the men's basketball players have plenty of opportunity to enjoy watching their fellow student-athletes in action.

The Intramural-Physical Education Building is one of the largest complexes on any campus, with four gymnasiums, 23 handball/racquetball courts, weight and exercise equipment, indoor and outdoor pools, tennis courts and more. The UI has one of the most comprehensive intramural sports programs in the nation.

CULTURE AND ENTERTAINMENT

In addition to hosting the men's and women's basketball teams in action, the Assembly Hall has hosted concerts, circuses, ice shows, and Broadway musicals. Beautifully restored Foellinger Auditorium on the Quad also is home to concerts, films and speakers. The Krannert Center for the Performing Arts holds four theaters for plays, dance, and concerts by famed individuals and groups, such as the Chicago Symphony.

There are approximately 850 registered student organizations at the University of Illinois to meet the individual needs and desires of each student. Quad Day, during the first week of school, offers a chance for students to sample the various activities available to them through the numerous organizations on campus.

OFF CAMPUS

If your interests include activities such as movies, bowling, or golf, the Champaign-Urbana area can accommodate you. There are several movie theaters, including a 16-screen theater about five minutes from campus. The U of I Orange and Blue Golf Course is open seven days a week and is also just minutes away from campus.

Additionally the Champaign-Urbana community offers a large number and variety of restaurant choices. With a population of 110,000 the area houses plenty of shopping opportunities and other big-city amenities while still retaining a Midwestern college-town atmosphere.

AFRICAN AMERICAN CULTURAL PROGRAM

Founded in 1969, the African American Cultural Program provides a support system for students by advising, counseling, and offering programs that have an appeal to the students as well as the entire community. Some of the program efforts include recognition of Martin Luther King Holiday, Black History Month, Mom's Day programming and the Black Congratulatory program. The African American Cultural Center is located on the University of Illinois campus and hosts activities on a regular basis. Student workshops revolving around the cultural arts are in place throughout the school year and some are offered for course credit.

The University of Illinois

The University

Since its founding in 1867, the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign has earned a reputation of international stature. Its distinguished faculty, outstanding resources, breadth of academic programs and research disciplines, and talented and diverse student body constitute an educational community ideally suited for teaching and research. Located in east central Illinois in the twin cities of Urbana and Champaign (population 110,000), the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign is the state's flagship public university.

Students

The University has a fundamental commitment to undergraduate education. More than 26,000 undergraduate students are enrolled in nine undergraduate divisions, which together offer some 4,000 courses in more than 150 fields of study.

The divisions are: the College of Agricultural, Consumer and Environmental Sciences; College of Applied Life Studies; College of Communications; College of Commerce and Business Administration; College of Education; College of Engineering; College of Fine and Applied Arts; College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and the Institute of Aviation.

Undergraduate admission is highly selective. In a recent freshman class, the average student was in the top 10 percent of his or her high school graduating class and scored in the top 10 percent of those taking the national college entrance examination.

Approximately 9,000 graduate and professional students are enrolled in more than 100 disciplines. Many of these programs rank in the top 10 in the country, making Illinois among the nation's top 20 universities that grant doctoral degrees, according to the National Research Council.

World-Class Faculty

Many faculty have been recognized for exceptional scholarship with memberships in the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, the National Academy of Sciences, and the National Academy of Engineering; with the National Medal of Science; as National Science Foundation Young Investigators; and by such organizations as the National Endowment for the Humanities, Guggenheim Memorial Foundation, National Academy of Education, and the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation. At Illinois, research has a home in libraries, laboratories and classrooms, where it provides a real-life context for teaching and learning.

Computing

A leader in supercomputing applications, the University is home of NCSA (National Center for Supercomputing Applications) where Mosaic web browsing software was first developed. Since first released in 1993, Mosaic has spawned exponential growth in the use of the World Wide Web. NCSA staff have also been instrumental in promoting World Wide Web access at the White House and in the city of Chicago. There are 23,000 network connections on campus for students, faculty and staff.

Research

Students and scholars find the University an ideal place to conduct cross-disciplinary research. The most visible example of the University's commitment to such study is the Beckman Institute for Advanced Science and Technology, where research groups from nearly two dozen disciplines work within and across the following three main research themes: biological intelligence, human-computer intelligent interaction and molecular and electronic nanostructures. The special atmosphere at the Beckman Institute made possible the collaboration between two researchers that led to the invention of a technique to extend by a factor of 50 the life of silicon chips, a development that has caught the interest of the world's major chip manufacturers.

University Library

Academic resources on the campus are among the world's finest. The University Library is the third largest academic collection in the nation, housing more than 15.9 million items in the main library and in the more than 40 departmental libraries and units. Only Harvard and Yale have larger collections. The library's computerized cataloging system was the first in the world to serve as the primary access to a large academic library. Users have worldwide access to the collections through the Internet, with more than a million patrons logging on each week.

The Arts

A major center for the arts, the campus attracts dozens of nationally and internationally renowned artists each year to its widely acclaimed Krannert Center for the Performing Arts. Designed by alumnus Max Abramovitz, an architect of New York City's Lincoln Center, the facility has four indoor theaters and an outdoor amphitheater. Together, they host more than 300 performances each year. The University also supports three major museums: the Krannert Art Museum and Kincaid Pavilion, the World Heritage Museum and the Museum of Natural History.

Other major facilities include the multipurpose Assembly Hall (16,000 seats), which hosts concerts, convocations, theater and sporting events; Memorial Stadium, site of Big Ten Conference football games; and the Intramural-Physical Education Building.

Partnership Illinois

Also integral to the University's mission is a commitment to partnerships with many sectors of Illinois business and industry. Each year more than 60,000 Illinois residents participate in scores of conferences, institutes, credit and non-credit courses and workshops presented on campus and statewide.

University-sponsored programs in both urban and rural areas of the state bring University faculty to the citizens of Illinois to share their expertise in food industries, health, K-12 education, technology transfer and economic development, to name a few. Cooperative Extension Service offices throughout Illinois serve nearly one million people annually.

The Institute for Competitive Manufacturing has succeeded in solving business and manufacturing problems in hundreds of Illinois firms by matching student project teams with businesses in need.

Our Graduates Succeed

Freshman retention and overall graduation rates are well above the national averages. Typically, approximately 90 percent of freshmen return for their sophomore year. The graduation rate for students who enter the university on a full-time basis is approximately 80 percent. The national average for four-year schools is approximately 50 percent. Each year, more than 400 graduates are accepted to law school. Medical school admissions are also impressive with more than 200 students admitted each year.

The University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign can be found on the World Wide Web at <http://www.uiuc.edu>

Board of Trustees

The Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois exercises final authority over the policies and governance of all three campuses of the University (Chicago, Springfield, Urbana-Champaign), within limits fixed by the Illinois Constitution and state law.

Legislation approved by the General Assembly, signed by the governor and tested in court has changed trustee selection. In 1996, the governor began appointing new trustees, as terms expired. Until the law changed, trustees had been elected by the people of Illinois in November general elections.

As before, there are nine trustees. Each serves for six years. Their terms are staggered, with three expiring every two years. All trustees serve without pay. The governor is also an ex officio member of the board, with a vote.

In addition, three students, one each from the campuses of Chicago, Springfield and Urbana-Champaign, serve single-year terms on the board.

Trustees elect their own chair annually, in January, from among the nine members. The 1999 chair is Jeffrey Gindorf.

PRESIDENT JAMES J. STUKEL

James J. Stukel begins his fifth year as president of the University of Illinois. Since becoming the University's 15th chief executive officer, Stukel has taken his four-point plan to thousands of Illinois citizens, including alumni and friends of the University, through community visits and special events in Illinois and several states.

The first point of the Stukel plan is to strengthen the connections between the University and the people of Illinois, in a redefinition of the UI's traditional land-grant obligations. The second is to upgrade students' educational experience through smaller classes and best use of the educational technology. Third is to cut costs where possible, stress productivity and create a positive, business-like administration that reassures taxpayers, tuition-payers and private donors that their money is being used efficiently. And fourth is to maintain the highest quality in a niche filled by relatively few U.S. Universities – basic and applied research.

For four years before becoming president, Stukel served as chancellor and chief executive officer of the University of Illinois at Chicago, leading UIC into the first rank of research universities.

Stukel has been part of the University of Illinois family since enrolling in graduate school in 1962. He spent 23 years on the Urbana-Champaign campus as an administrator, engineering professor and researcher. He then moved to UIC, spending one year as vice chancellor for research and five years as executive vice chancellor and vice chancellor for academic affairs before assuming the chancellor position in Chicago.

Born March 30, 1937, Stukel earned his B.S. in mechanical engineering from Purdue University in 1959 and spent two years as a research engineer for the Virginia Pulp and Paper Co. In 1962, Stukel enrolled in graduate school at Illinois, earning his M.S. in mechanical engineering in 1963 and his Ph.D. in mechanical engineering in 1968.

He became assistant professor of environmental engineering and mechanical engineering at Illinois in 1968, associate professor in 1971 and full professor in 1975.

Stukel is a member of the Kellogg Commission on the Future of State and Land-Grant Institutions, as well as a member of the board and co-chair of the Council of Governmental Affairs at the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges. He also is on the executive committee of the Illinois Coalition and is a governing board member of the Illinois Council on Economic Education. In May 1997, he received an honorary doctor of engineering degree from Purdue University.

Stukel and his wife, the former M. Joan Helpling, have four children and three grandchildren.

CHANCELLOR MICHAEL AIKEN

When Michael Aiken joined the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign in 1993, he brought with him more than 30 years of scholarly and administrative experience. Aiken is an internationally recognized sociologist who has specialized in the analysis of organizations and issues of community power and social change.

As the sixth chancellor of the campus, Aiken has emphasized undergraduate education as well as research and public service. Programs designed to ensure the success of new students include the Freshman Convocation ceremony, which welcomes new students to campus and shares with them the rich traditions of the university, and the Discovery program, which gives new students at Urbana-Champaign the opportunity to study with a senior faculty member in a classroom setting of 20 or fewer students.

Under Aiken's leadership, the Urbana-Champaign campus has launched Partnership Illinois, an effort to catalog, coordinate and promote outreach efforts of the Urbana campus. As a land-grant institution, the university makes a vital contribution to the quality of life on the people of Illinois by providing a wide variety of services in partnership with them. PI enhances the campus's ability to bring faculty expertise to bear on the educational, technological, economic, social and cultural challenges facing Illinois and the broader society.

These and other new programs were outlined in "A Framework for the Future," the strategic planning document completed in May 1995.

Before coming to Illinois, Aiken served as provost of the University of Pennsylvania, where he also had been a faculty member in the department of sociology, chairman of sociology and dean of the School of Arts and Sciences.

Aiken's career has included academic posts at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, Columbia University, Washington University in St. Louis and two Belgian universities, the Katholieke Universiteit Leuven and the Universit'e Catholique de Louvain.

Aiken graduated from the University of Mississippi in 1954 and earned his master's degree in 1955. He received a doctorate in sociology in 1964 from the University of Michigan.

An avid Fighting Illini fan, Chancellor Aiken attends sporting events on campus and follows Illinois athletic teams on the road as well.

Aiken is married to Catherine Comet, an internationally acclaimed orchestral conductor. They have one daughter, Caroline.

DIVISION OF INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

The Division of Intercollegiate Athletics (DIA) was chartered in 1892 as a not-for-profit corporation of the State of Illinois. It was charged with overseeing and conducting the University's intercollegiate athletic programs and associated support services, and operated as a separate entity.

After the state legislature voted in June 1989 to bring UI athletics within the University proper, the DIA assumed the functions and responsibilities of the Athletic Association. The Division of Intercollegiate Athletics began operations officially July 1, 1989, and now, more than a century after University of Illinois athletics began, the mission is still to achieve excellence both in the classroom and in sport competition.

The director of athletics is the division's chief executive officer, and reports directly to the chancellor of the Urbana-Champaign campus. The chancellor has final authority regarding the athletic program in all areas except for budget and major appointments. Those decisions rest with the University of Illinois Board of Trustees.

The Athletic Board serves the DIA in an advisory capacity. It is composed of 18 members, (nine faculty, five alumni, three students and one trustee); and the three non-voting (ex-officio) members from the University administration.

The faculty and student members are nominated by the Urbana-Champaign Senate and selected by the chancellor.

The Division of Intercollegiate Athletics does not receive state tax dollars and over the years has been able to fully fund the NCAA maximum allowable number of athletic scholarships for student-athletes in each of its sports programs, as well as to hire excellent coaches and maintain and upgrade its facilities, staying on par with the best major collegiate programs across the nation.

This has been accomplished through revenues derived from four major sources: gate receipts from football and men's basketball; television and radio rights fees for those two sports; corporate sponsorships and donations to the Fighting Illini Scholarship Fund. The FISF contributions provide the maximum allowable number of scholarships in the 19 men's and women's sports at an average annual cost of approximately $10,000 for in-state student-athletes and about $15,000 for those from outside Illinois.

Facilities

The Division of Intercollegiate Athletics utilizes and maintains 12 facilities for competition and the administration of 19 sports. The facilities include Memorial Stadium, Assembly Hall, Huff Hall, Illinois Field, the Outdoor Track and Field and Soccer Stadium, the Armory, Atkins Tennis Center, the Intramural and Physical Education Building, Kenney Gym, the University of Illinois Orange and Blue Golf Courses, the Currently under construction is a $ 12.5 million indoor football practice facility, located just east of the current Ubben Football Complex and locker room. The football practice field will open directly onto the East Outdoor Practice Field and is scheduled for completion for spring practice in 2001. In 1996, more than 100 members of the DIA staff moved into the Bielfeldt Athletic Administration Building, located on the east-west axis between the Atkins Tennis Center and the Assembly Hall. The facility houses DIA coaches, administration and staff, including the Fighting Illini Scholarship Fund, the Varsity "I" Association, accounting and personnel, athletic public relations and marketing and compliance.

A "Park of Tradition" commemorating the history of Fighting Illini athletics is planned adjacent to the Bielfeldt Building, along with the opening of the Illinois Hall of Fame. The Ubben Basketball Practice Facility opened last fall and features practice courts for men's and women's basketball, offices and meeting rooms, training and equipment facilities, strength and conditioning and locker rooms.

In 1992, the DIA completed an $ 18 million renovation project on Memorial Stadium, replacing the main and balcony stands on the east and west sides of the Stadium.

It has been a busy two decades for facility construction at Illinois as the Atkins Tennis Center opened in 1991, featuring six indoor and eight outdoor lighted courts, along with a pro shop and balcony viewing areas. The Atkins Tennis Center has hosted the Big Ten Championships, the NCAA Regionals and numerous professional tournaments and is also a resource for the entire Champaign-Urbana tennis community. Fighting Illini men's and women's tennis have risen to the top of the Big Ten Conference with the men's squad ranked second in the nation.

Illinois Field, the home of the 1998 Big Ten champion Illini baseball squad, and the Outdoor Track Stadium have also seen construction upgrades, adding lights to both facilities and expanding the track stadium to accommodate Illinois women's soccer matches. The Outdoor Track and Soccer Stadium also includes future plans for seating for 8,000 and a permanent press box.

Two years ago, the Irwin Academic Center opened on campus, providing UI student-athletes with state-of-the-art computer study areas, quiet rooms, conference rooms, career planning and placement and other academic programs all under one roof. The Irwin Academic Center is utilized by nearly 600 student-athletes on an annual basis.

The Illini men's and women's basketball squads compete in the Assembly Hall, billed for many years as college basketball's finest arena. During the past two years, the Assembly Hall has undergone more than $ 11 million in facility upgrades, including new locker rooms, training rooms, meeting and dining areas, storage and other improvements designed to showcase Illinois basketball.

Huff Hall, the home for Illinois men's basketball and the famed IHSA "March Madness" state basketball tournament from 1925-63, has undergone nearly $ 1 million in construction since 1990 and is the home for Illini volleyball, wrestling and gymnastics.

Future construction plans include a new playing surface at Memorial Stadium and renovations and expansion of the Irwin Football Complex, a multi-purpose indoor sport facility adjacent to the Bielfeldt Athletic Administration Building and the construction of a softball stadium to accommodate the new Illini athletic sport program.

Athletic Director

RON GUENTHER

In seven years as Director of Athletics at the University of Illinois, Ron Guenther has returned his alma mater to the national elite in competing for championships in 19 intercollegiate sports with outstanding coaches, staff and facilities. The MVP of the 1966 Illinois football squad, Guenther continues to move the Illini athletic program on a breakneck pace toward a position of competing at a championship level in all programs.

In the last three years, Guenther, 53, has overseen a series of dramatic changes that have local, regional and national media, alumni and fans marveling at Guenther's abilities to add sport programs in women's soccer and softball, recruit top-level coaches, plan for and build championship facilities with more than $ 50 million in capital donations and create a model program producing outstanding student-athletes. In the last three years, Guenther has established Illinois as a rising power among NCAA institutions by:

- * Beginning construction on a $ 12.5 million state-of-the-art indoor football practice facility, to be completed during the next two years.
- * Overseeing the construction of the Richard T. Ubben Basketball Practice Facility for the Illini men's and women's cage programs.
- * Adding women's soccer under the direction of former Head Coach Jill Ellis, the first UI athletic program added in two decades.
- * Meeting the needs of high school athletes in the state of Illinois by adding popular women's softball as the 19th varsity sport, beginning competition in the spring of 2000.
- * Hiring championship-level coaches such as football's Ron Turner, Lon Kruger in men's basketball and Theresa Grentz to lead the women's basketball program. Guenther also extended the contract of nationally-prominent wrestling coach Mark Johnson and brought in talented coaches such as volleyball's Don Hardin and soccer's Jill Ellis. In his seven years as director, Guenther has also landed nationally-recognized men's tennis coach Craig Tiley, who led the Illini to their first Big Ten title since 1946, swimming coach Jim Lutz, who had Illinois ranked among the nation's Top 25 this season, and women's gymnastics coach Lynn Brueckman.
- * Signing an exclusive $ 7.5 million agreement with Nike as one of only 13 Nike institutions in the United States.
- * Christening the $ 7.2 million Bielfeldt Athletic Administration Building.
- * Overseeing the construction and opening of the $ 2.1 million Irwin Academic Center, providing 600 student-athletes with a state-of-the-art, convenient academic center to reach their full potential as students.

Under Guenther's leadership, Illinois has steadily improved its performance on the field and in the classroom. In the last three years, Illinois has won back-to-back historic Big Ten titles in men's tennis, captured the 1998 Big Ten men's basketball and baseball championships and won the 1997 Big Ten women's basketball title, earning consecutive NCAA "Sweet 16" appearances. Off the field, Illinois student-athletes have continued to benefit from outstanding academic services programs, matching the overall campus grade point average and producing nearly 100 Academic All-Big Ten award winners annually in all sports.

Guenther has also spearheaded a revolution for funding for championship-level programs and facilities as the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics has opened necessary additional revenue streams totaling more than $ 3 million through working partnerships with corporate sponsors and management of the Illini Sports Radio Network.

"Guenther has the school on track to realize the expectations of unbridled athletic success, achieved the right way,"

-- Chicago Sun Times, March 9, 1997

Guenther's aggressive plan to make the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics a valuable and enthusiastic partner in the overall education, research and service mission of the University has begun to pay dividends heading into the 21st century.

Now in his fourth decade with the University of Illinois, Guenther was the Most Valuable Player on the 1966 Illinois football squad under Head Coach Pete Elliott. Guenther was a second-team All-Big Ten selection at offensive guard, also earning first-team Academic All-Big Ten honors and recognition as the University's outstanding senior in physical education.

Guenther earned his bachelor of science degree in physical education from Illinois in 1967 and an M.S. in administration in 1968 before embarking on a successful career in coaching, athletic administration and business.

Guenther was named the 17th Director of Athletics in 1992 after serving for two years with the University of Illinois Foundation as Director of Major Gifts and for three years as a partner with The Barofsky Association, a Chicago-area investments and marketing firm.

From June of 1988 to March of 1989, Guenther served as Interim Director of Athletics for External Operations, administering the development program, public relations, promotions, tickets, merchandise and summer camps.

Guenther spent the previous three years within the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics as associate athletic director for development, coordinating the "Campaign for Excellence in Athletics." That campaign began the first major facelift of athletic facilities in nearly 60 years on campus and provided the impetus for the eventual construction of Illinois Field for baseball, the UI Outdoor Track and Field Stadium, the Atkins Tennis Center and the Irwin Football Complex, housing coaches offices, locker rooms, sports medicine, strength and conditioning facilities and meeting rooms for Illinois football.

One of the nation's top athletic fund raisers, Guenther has been instrumental in soliciting gift commitments totaling more than $ 50 million toward capital improvements at Illinois during the last 15 years.

Firmly committed to delivering the Illinois message across the state and Midwest, Guenther served from 1983 to 1985 as assistant athletic director for Chicago operations, renewing a commitment that continues today to reach out to the thousands of Chicago-area alumni, donors and fans. During his tenure in Chicago, Guenther created the annual statewide caravan for promotion and public relations and saw a tripling in the number of donors to Illinois athletics.

Guenther spent eight years at North Central College in Naperville, Ill., including a stint from 1975-79 as director of admissions and also as an associate head football coach. From 1979-83, he served as the vice president of development and public affairs at North Central, helping to design and implement a $ 15 million Capital Campaign. As associate head football coach, Guenther helped the Cardinals amass a 23-12-2 record, including the school's first winning season in 15 years.

Before moving to North Central College, Guenther was offensive line coach at Boston College from 1971-74, helping to develop nine National Football League players.

From 1968-71, Guenther was a teacher and coached football, wrestling and track and field for the Evanston Township and Glenbard High School systems in suburban Chicago.

Born October 3, 1945, Guenther is a native of Evanston and a graduate of York High School. He lettered at Illinois in 1965 and 1966, helping Illinois to a 24-14-1 record in his four seasons. Guenther earned MVP honors on a squad that produced five All-Americans in 1966.

Illini Tradition

One of the most dramatic and dignified traditions in college athletics is the performance of Chief Illiniwek at the University of Illinois. Since 1926, this symbol has stirred pride and respect in audiences at Memorial Stadium, the Assembly Hall and Huff Hall.

Illiniwek (pronounced "ill-EYE-nih-wek") was the name of the loose confederation of Algonquin tribes that once lived in the region. The French changed the ending to "ois" in naming what became the state of Illinois. Illiniwek means "they are men" and former Illinois football coach Robert Zuppke is believed to have suggested calling the UI symbol Chief Illiniwek.

In 1926, Assistant Band Director Ray Dvorak conceived the idea of performing an American Indian dance during halftime of the Illinois vs. Pennsylvania football game in Philadelphia. Lester Leutwiler, a student interested in Indian lore, was chosen for the role. Leutwiler's performance, done in a homemade costume, was received so well that he was asked to continue his dance through the 1928 season.

Webber Borchers, the second

Chief Illiniwek, was the first to appear in authentic American Indian regalia. He initiated a campaign to raise money to replace his homemade outfit with an authentic one, but with the Depression on, he received just $15 dollars. However, a Champaign merchant stepped in to fund the rest and Borchers was off.

He recalled: "In the summer of 1930, I went, at my own expense, to the Pine Ridge reservation in South Dakota. I hitchhiked out, called an Indian agent and explained my mission. He and an Indian trader called in an older Sioux woman. She and two younger women made the suit."

On Nov. 8, 1930, in New York's Yankee Stadium, Illinois faced Army in the seventh game of the season. It was there that Borchers made the first appearance of Chief Illiniwek in that outfit. Since then, five different authentic outfits have been used by Chief Illiniwek. The one used in performances now was purchased in 1983 from Sioux Chief Frank Fools Crow, and is topped by a headdress of turkey feathers.

Holding the role of Chief Illiniwek is senior John Madigan, a speech communications major from Philo, Illinois.

Illinois Loyalty

We're loyal to you Illinois
We're "Orange and Blue," Illinois
We'll back you to stand
'gainst the best in the land
For we know you have sand,
Illinois
Rah! Rah!
So crack out the ball Illinois
We're backing you all Illinois
Our team is the fame protector;
On boys, for we expect a
Victory from you Illinois
Chehee, Cheha, Cheha-ha-ha
Go Illini Go
Illinois, Illinois, Illinois
Fling out that dear old flag of Orange and Blue
Lead on your sons and daughters,
Fighting for you;
Like men of old, on giants
Placing reliance, shouting defiance
Oskee-wow-wow!
Amid the broad green plains
That nourish our land,
For honest labor and for learning we stand,

Lead on your sons and daughters,
Fighting for you;
Like men of old, on giants
Placing reliance, shouting defiance
Oskee-wow-wow!
Amid the broad green plains
That nourish our land,
For honest labor and for learning we stand,
And unto thee we pledge our heart and hand,
Dear Alma Mater, Illinois

Oskee-Wow-Wow

Old Princeton yells her tiger
Wisconsin her varsity
And they give the same old Rah!
Rah! Rah!
At each university
But the yell that always thrills me,
And fills my heart with joy,
Is the good old Oskee-wow-wow,
That they yell at Illinois
Chorus
Oskee-wow-wow, Illinois
Our eyes are all on you
Oskee-wow-wow, Illinois
Wave your Orange and Blue, Rah! Rah!

When your team trots out before you
Ev'ry man stand up and yell
Back the team to gain a victory
Oskee-wow-wow, Illinois

March of the Illini

We are marching for dear old Illini
For the men who are fighting for you
Here's a cheer for our dear Alma Mater may our love for her ever be true
While we're marching along life's pathways,
May the Spirit of old Illinois
Keep us marching and singing
In true Illini spirit
For our dear old Illinois

Lon Kruger

The name Lon Kruger is synonymous with winning and doing it with integrity. The fourth-year Illini head coach has a great love and respect for the game, but above all he has a desire to see each player make the most of his opportunities both on and off the court. The success that has followed Kruger from high school to college and into the coaching profession is a direct result of his work ethic, and he teaches the value of a strong work ethic to his players. He is respected by others in the coaching fraternity and by people in all the communities where he has lived.

LON KRUGER THE COACH

In his 18th year as a head coach and his fourth at Illinois, Lon Kruger knows the taste of success. Everywhere he has coached, he has won. And in March of 1996 he brought his winning ways to the University of Illinois where he immediately found success. In 1996-97, Kruger guided the Illini to a 22-10 record, the second round of the NCAA Tournament and fourth place in the Big Ten after the team had recorded a ninth place finish the year before.

Moving on to year two at Illinois, Kruger solidified himself as one of the greats in collegiate coaching. In masterful fashion, he took a group of players that were picked to finish seventh in the Big Ten, and led them to the school's first Big Ten Championship since 1984. En route, the Illini downed three top 25 teams and logged their second-straight 20-win season with a 23-10 record. Kruger and the Illini closed out the year with a return trip to the Big Dance. Illinois advanced to the second round and forged a comeback against Maryland in the second round that fell just six points shy of advancing to the Sweet 16.

After the euphoria of a championship season in 1998 Kruger faced a squad with no returning starters and the seven seniors lost from the year before. He placed the Big Ten's youngest and most inexperienced team on the floor to face the rigors of a schedule ranked second toughest in the nation (Sagarin ratings). While the end result was a 14-18 record, it is a record that included five wins against ranked opponents and the growth of a team that fought through a losing record and came within one game of the NCAA Tournament. He taught his players to never give up and as a result the last place Illini swept through the Big Ten Tournament downing three-straight ranked opponents before falling to No. 2 Michigan State in the title game.

Kruger was named the 14th basketball coach at the University of Illinois March 21, 1996, and in three seasons he's compiled a 59-38 record and a 27-23 slate in Big Ten games. Illinois is not the only place that this gifted coach has brought his winning ways. On a national scale, Kruger has led four Division I programs to 20-win seasons and is one of only a handful of active Division I head coaches who have taken three different teams to the NCAA Tournament.

He is a proven winner, which is evidenced in every program he has directed in the last 17 years. During his six-year stint at Florida, Kruger transformed the Gators from a team that was not a factor in the SEC race to a team that posted a school record 29 wins and went to postseason play four times.

The year before Kruger took over the program (1989-90), Florida finished 7-21 overall and 3-15 in the SEC. In six seasons at Florida, Kruger twice led the Gators to the NIT and twice to the NCAA Tournament. His crowning achievement came in 1994 when he directed the Gators to a school-record 29-8 mark and a NCAA Final Four appearance. Kruger earned Southeastern Conference Coach-of-the-Year honors in 1992 and 1994.

Early in his career he established himself as one of the nation's best young coaches in America. He began his head coaching journey in south Texas at Pan American, where he guided a major turn around in the program. Before Kruger arrived, Pan Am had won only five games in 1992. After a first-season, seven-win year, Kruger's Broncs posted double-digit wins in three-straight seasons, including a 20-8 record in his final season, 1985-86.

Then his alma mater came calling. When Jack Hartman, longtime Kansas State head coach, retired there was only one man who could come in and take over the program and that was Lon Kruger. Returning to his home, Kruger carried success with him. In four years at K-State, Kruger led the Wildcats to a school-record, four-consecutive NCAA tournament appearances and an 81-46 record.

His 1988 Wildcat squad ranks as one of the school's all-time best teams. It compiled a 25-9 slate, tying the school record for wins in a season, while coming within one game of reaching the Final Four.

A 1975 graduate of Kansas State, Kruger began his coaching career as an assistant at Pittsburg State University in Pittsburg, Kan., in 1976-77. He returned to K-State as a graduate assistant coach for the 1977-78 campaign and was promoted to full-time status in 1978. Kruger continued in that role through the 1981-82 season before embarking on his head coaching career.

LON KRUGER THE PLAYER

When Kruger returned to his alma mater in 1986 as the school's 17th basketball coach, the immediate success that followed was typical of that which took place when he played for the Wildcats. Kansas State was 61-22 with Kruger in uniform. Combining with his coaching marks at the school, Kruger was part of 142 wins, against 67 losses while part of the KSU program.

As a player, Kruger led the Wildcats to back-to-back Big Eight Conference crowns in 1972 and 1973. After being touted as the Big Eight's Sophomore-of-the-Year in 1972, he was honored as the league's best player in 1973 and 1974. He finished his Wildcat career with 1,063 points, the 14th best total in K-State history. He also had the fourth-best career free throw percentage (.826) in school history. As a senior he averaged 17.6 points per game and currently stands 13th on the school's career scoring average list with a 13.3 points per game average. Kruger was selected to the all-time Big Eight Team (third team) and was named "Mr. Hustle" all-time in the Big Eight. An Academic All-American as a senior, he also earned All-Big Eight academic honors three times. He was the first player to capture K-State's covered Porky Morgan Most Inspirational Player Award three times.

Kruger received a B.S. in business from Kansas State in 1975 and a M.S. in physical education from Pittsburg State (Kan.) in 1977.

LON KRUGER THE ALL-AROUND ATHLETE

Also a baseball letterwinner at KSU, Kruger enjoyed one season of post-college minor league baseball with the St. Louis Cardinals' organization in St. Petersburg, Fla. He was drafted out of high school by the Houston Astros and then played second base, third base and pitcher during his Wildcat career.

His best season was in 1971 when he posted a 4-3 record (3-1 in Big Eight games) and an earned run average of 3.33. He struck out 38 and walked 14 in 46 innings.

An all-around athlete, Kruger even got some football notice after graduating from Kansas State when the Dallas Cowboys invited him to their 1972 rookie camp as a quarterback. A prep standout at Silver Lake High School (located 40 miles east of Manhattan), Kruger lettered all four years in football, basketball and baseball. As a senior, he averaged 23 points per game in leading his team to the state basketball tournament, passed for 2,079 yards and scored 23 touchdowns in nine football games, and led the baseball team to the state tournament as a pitcher-infielder.

Even now, he can sometimes be found in a pick-up game on the court and an avid golfer, he cards around a four handicap.

LON KRUGER IN THE COMMUNITY

The legacies left by some athletes and coaches are based only by what they accomplished in the sporting arena. Lon Kruger is defined by much more than what he has accomplished as a player and coach. He places the highest of priorities on his family and devotes time to a number of community service activities.

Since coming to Illinois, Kruger has involved himself in a number of activities that benefit the Urbana-Champaign area. He is actively involved with the Coaches vs. Cancer program, sponsored by the National Association of Basketball Coaches, and in 1999, he teamed with Illini head women's coach Theresa Greutz and together their Three-Point Attack program finished second in the nation with a dollar figure of over $76,000.

Last year he served as a witness for U of I students who signed their drivers licenses to become organ donors, as part of an event sponsored by an Illinois fraternity during National Organ and Tissue Donation Week. Kruger has been a frequent public spokesman for various nonprofit organizations and in April, 1995, he was named the Gainesville area's Volunteer-of-the-Year. The Krugers were honored with consecutive Community Service Awards from the Gainesville (Fla.) Community Council on Alcohol & Drug Abuse for their efforts. From 1991-93, he and his wife Barbara served as co-chairpersons of Alachua County's Red Ribbon Campaign, a week-long program aimed at increasing awareness and promoting a drug-free environment for the community. Kruger carried that involvement to the Champaign-Urbana area, and he and Fighting Illini players serve as honorary chairpersons for the Champaign-Urbana Red Ribbon Campaign.

Kruger is married to the former Barbara Miles. They are the parents of a daughter, Angie, and a son, Kevin.

RICHMONDS ENDOW COACH'S POSITION

The University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign has been close in many respects to Jack Richmond all his life.

The Champaign resident, U of I graduate, retired businessman, and longtime benefactor has again strengthened his ties to his alma mater. A lifelong Fighting Illini fan, Jack and his wife, Marge, significantly increased their previous seven-figure commitment to the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics by endowing the salary of the men's basketball head coach position.

"The Richmond Family Endowed Men's Head Basketball Coach," is the latest on a long list of generous support from the Richmond family. Jack, whose ancestors helped settle Champaign County, recalled his parents Arthur Dean and Mildred Richmond, contributed to the U of I for the construction of Memorial Stadium. Seven-year-old Jack was on hand for the dedication of Memorial Stadium Oct. 17, 1924, and has been hooked on Fighting Illini sports ever since.

His own years at the U of I were greatly satisfying. He was a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, and was active in sports. As a freshman gymnast, who earned his numerals with the U of I team, Jack broke his sternum following a dismount from the rings. No longer able to compete as a gymnast, he focused his attention on weight training. At that point, weights weren't popular and were nonexistent at the U of I.

"I always thought that weight training, if done properly, would help athletes. Nobody believed me," he said.

Still, he convinced Seward Staley, director of the U of I School of Physical Education, to purchase a set of Olympic weights. A small but dedicated weight lifting team was formed, and the sport spread. Today, the benefits of weight training are widely recognized and top-notch equipment is readily available across campus. Jack smiles and says, "I feel like I was 60 years ahead of my time."

Jack graduated in 1943 with a bachelor's degree in agriculture. After a tour in the Army, he put his degree to work at the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service as a county farm planner. Later, he joined Marchant Calculators as a salesman and had clients ranging from grain elevator operators to the U of I. He remained with Marchant, which was acquired by Smith Corona and became known as SCM Corp., until 1972. Then he was ready to embark on a new course — the stock market.

He had dabbled in the market since 1955, but by the early 1970s he had become active. He enjoyed success in this realm as well.

Jack and Marge Richmond

Jack stayed busy investing and active in organizations such as the Champaign Lions Club, in which he was president, Sons of American Revolution, the Society of the War of 1812, and three Masonic orders. By the mid-1970s, he was "looking at organizations to find a good place to put my money," he said. His solution was, "where people need it and where it will do the most good."

That place, he decided, was the U of I. A donor since 1965, his generosity to the University increased significantly over the years. Jack and his mother became members of the Presidents Council in 1976 and Marge became a member in 1990.

Thanks to seven-figure commitments from the estate of Mildred Richmond and from Jack and Marjorie Laird Richmond, the U of I constructed the Richmond Journalism Teaching Studio, adjacent to and affiliated with Campbell Hall for Public Telecommunication, the new WILL broadcast facility at UIUC. The Richmond Studio honors Jack, Marge, and the memory of Arthur Dean and Mildred Hummel Richmond.

Always interested in U of I athletics, Jack is an honorary member of the I Man's Association and has been a member and former president of the Illini Quarterback Club since 1955. He also joined the Rebounders Club shortly after former head coach Lou Henson founded it. Jack is also a life member of the Fighting Illini Scholarship Fund.

Now the Richmond name will also be forever associated with the athletics at the U of I through the endowment of the men's basketball head coach position. Jack said he hopes his gift ensures success for the Fighting Illini program for future generations through the Richmond Family Endowed Men's Head Basketball Coach.

For lifelong Illini fan and generous supporter Jack Richmond, it just doesn't get any better.

Quick Turnarounds

- At Pan American, (1983-86), Kruger inherited a team which had won five games the year prior to his arrival, and he took the Broncs from seven wins in his first year to a 20-8 record in his fourth season.
- In the four years before Kruger became the head coach at Kansas State, the Wildcats had a 49 percent winning percentage and were 16-14 in 1986, the year prior to Kruger taking over the program. In his first season, Kruger took Kansas State to the NCAA Tournament and led the Wildcats to a 20-11 record. In his second season, Kruger led the Wildcats to a 25-9 record and the NCAA Elite Eight. In four seasons under Kruger, K-State averaged 20.3 wins per year after averaging only 14 wins in the four years prior to his arrival.
- Kruger took over a Florida program that was 7-21 in 1990 and in only two seasons, he guided the Gators to a 19-14 record and the NIT Final Four (1992). Two years later, under Kruger's direction, Florida achieved the program's pinnacle with a trip to the Final Four capping a school record 29-8 season.
- After being recognized as one of the top 20 winningest programs in the 1980s, Illinois had averaged only 17.2 wins in the five seasons prior to Kruger taking the helm. In his first season, 1997, he turned around a team that was 7-11 in the Big Ten in 1996 and finished fourth in the league with an 11-7 record. The Illini's 22 wins in 1997 were the school's most since a school record 31-5 record in 1989. It was the team's first 20 win season since 1991. In only his second year as head coach of the Illini, Kruger guided Illinois to its first Big Ten Championship since 1984. Illinois finished the year 23-10 and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. Lon Kruger is the first Illini coach to post over 40 wins in his first two seasons at Illinois. He was 45-20 in his first two years at Illinois.

What They Are Saying...

"It was a great experience coaching with Lon at the World Championships. He has a tremendous knowledge of the game and our chemistry was extremely good. Coming from the pro game I had a lot to learn about zone offense and defense, and Lon showed me the way. I've always respected him, but now I'll always be a fan and follow his teams."
-Rudy Tomjanovich, Houston Rockets head coach

"He's certainly one of the brightest guys of his age in college coaching. I think that's universally accepted."
-Billy Packer, CBS

"He was a great player himself so he knows what it takes to be successful. He's also great at helping you stay focused on the books. I had a great career on the court and got a degree at the same time. Coach Kruger has to get a lot of credit for that."
-Mitch Richmond, 1988 Kansas State All-American and 1995 NBA All-Star Game MVP

Illinois' Lon Kruger is Big Ten Coach of the Decade.
-Loren Tate (News-Gazette) March 1998

"He's (Lon Kruger) a team-oriented coach who cares a lot about his players on and off the court. When you have a coach like that who shows he's caring, you want to give your best for him."

-Craig Brown, 1994 UF Senior Captain

"Without a doubt, Lon is one of the best tacticians in the game. I love Lon. He does everything above board. He has a program Illinois fans can be proud of."

-Mike Krzyzewski, Duke head coach

"His teams are very fundamental. They play tremendous defense. They're well-coached. He's an unbelievable person. They're very up-tempo. ... Players play hard for him. They like him. He's probably one of the most honorable people in this profession. He's going to do it right. He's a tireless worker."

-Rob Evans, Arizona State head coach

"Lon Kruger, a tremendous hire. This is a great, great day for Illinois basketball. In some ways, I'm happy to see him go because he can coach his tail off. His teams are extremely difficult to play and beat. Lon took Florida from rock bottom to the Final Four."

-Eddie Fogler, South Carolina head coach

"Coach Kruger is the most important part of this (winning the Big Ten Championship), without a doubt. He prepares us so well, it's unbelievable. I can't explain it. He knows everything about the game of basketball and teaches us everything he knows. And the most important thing, he makes you believe in yourself as a player and a person."

-Kevin Turner, former Illini, first-team All-Big Ten 1998

"He's a great teacher, he loves the game and he loves to teach players how to play this game and how to do it with a love for the game. He brings in good talent, talent he can work with, and kids who are willing to learn and become better basketball players."

Andrew DeClercq, former Gator now with the NBA's Cleveland Cavaliers

"But quietly, the only way he knows, Kruger has shown his new audience what smart people already realize: he teaches the game as well as anyone, invariably making the most of what he is handed."

-Jay Mariotti (Chicago Sun Times) March 1997

"In essence, Kruger is what he seems: warm, genuine, friendly, conservative. . . He preaches continual improvement, constant assessment, awareness, intensity and preparation. He believes resolutely in accentuating the positive and bolstering confidence. And be assured that without Kruger as a coach, Illinois probably would not be preparing for an NCAA Tournament game: His impact has been that decisive."

-Bill Coats (St. Louis Post-Dispatch) March 1997

"Year in and year out, Lon Kruger is as good a coach as there is in the country. His teams are always well-prepared and never take a night off."

-New Mexico Head Coach Fran Fraschilla

Robert McCullum, a veteran of both the collegiate and high school ranks, is in his 18th season as a Division I collegiate coach and his fourth at the University of Illinois. He joined the Illinois staff on April 5, 1996 after spending the previous six years as an assistant on Lon Kruger's staff at the University of Florida.

In three seasons at Illinois McCullum, who works with the Illini frontcourt players, has been instrumental in the team's overall success, including consecutive NCAA appearances in 1997 and 1998, the 1998 Big Ten Championship, and advancing to the championship game of the 1999 Big Ten Tournament. In his first year at Illinois, 1996-97, he helped transform Illini Chris

Gandy from a role player to a 32 game starter who averaged over 10 points a game and continued his playing career professionally overseas.

During his tenure in Gainesville, McCullum played a prominent role in the rebuilding of the Florida basketball program as he helped lead the Gators to four consecutive postseason appearances, including a berth in the 1994 NCAA Tournament's Final Four and the 1995 NCAA Tournament. While at Florida, McCullum coached Cleveland Cavaliers forward Andrew DeClercq and first-team All-SEC forward Dametri Hill. McCullum was also an assistant coach at Kansas State University in Kruger's final season in Manhattan.

Prior to joining Kruger at Kansas State, McCullum spent two years as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Southern Illinois University. Before moving to Carbondale, he spent four years at South Alabama in two different stints. He was an assistant coach under Cliff Ellis in 1983, then returned under Mike Hanks in 1985.

In between his two stints at South Alabama, he was an assistant coach at Samford for the 1983-84 season when that school posted the most wins in its history with a 22-8 record. McCullum spent six years in the high school ranks, coaching two years at Council Junior High School (1976-78) and Ramsay High School (1978-82) in his native Birmingham, Ala. He coached Birmingham's entries in the U.S. Youth Games from 1979-82 and his boys' team took the bronze medal in '79, while the girls claimed the gold in '80.

McCullum played two years of basketball at Seminole Junior College in Sanford, Fla., and was team captain one year. He transferred to Birmingham Southern and graduated from there in 1976. He later received a master's degree in secondary education from Alabama State in 1980.

McCullum and his wife, Cheryl, have a son, Darius, and a daughter, Richelle.

1981-83 Head Coach,
Wauconda (Ill.) High School
1984-89 Head Coach,
Glenbrook (Ill.) South High School

1990-91 Assistant Coach, Northern Illinois
1992-96 Assistant Coach, Bradley University
1997- Assistant Coach, University of Illinois

An Illini Academic All-American, Rob Judson returned to his alma mater when he joined Lon Kruger's staff in 1996. In three seasons at Illinois, Judson has helped continue the great tradition of Fighting Illini basketball that he was a part of as a player in the late 1970s.

A four-year letterwinner at Zion-Benton High School, Judson played for his father, Phil, who was one-half of the famed Judson twins who led tiny Hebron High to the 1952 Illinois High School state championship. Twenty-three years later, Rob was his team's MVP, an all-state selection and a top recruit by the University of Illinois and Lou Henson.

While playing for the Fighting Illini from 1976-80, Judson starred not only on the court but in the classroom. Illinois went 70-52 in his four years, a mark which included a third-place finish in the 1980 NIT. As an Illini, he set the Illinois career free-throw percentage record (.875), which still stands. Judson also earned four consecutive George Huff Academic awards, Academic All-Big Ten laurels (1979 & 1980) and CoSIDA Academic All-America honors (1979).

Judson's coaching career began at Palatine High School in 1980, then moved to Wauconda High School (1981-83) and Glenbrook South High School (1983-89) in suburban Chicago before joining Jim Molinari at Northern Illinois University. He followed Molinari to Bradley in 1991 (five years to the day), where he was the Bradley head coach's chief recruiter. A former Illinois Basketball Coaches Association District Coach-of-the-Year, Judson is a member of that organization's Hall of Fame.

Judson was the fourth member of his family to letter at Illinois. Besides his father, Phil, who lettered in 1955 and 1956, his uncles Paul and Howard left their mark on Fighting Illini basketball. Paul lettered from 1954-56, earning first-team All-Big Ten honors as a junior and senior. He was Illinois' most valuable player in 1955. Howard lettered in 1944 and 1945 before enjoying a seven-year major league baseball career as a pitcher with the Chicago White Sox (1948-52) and Cincinnati Reds (1953-54).

Rob, 40, has degrees from both Illinois (B.A., liberal arts, 1980) and Roosevelt University (M.A., administration and supervision). He is married to the former Kim McCarty of Tuscola. The couple has three children: daughters Karin and Kristin, and son Matthew.

After a successful collegiate and professional basketball career, Steve Henson begins his coaching debut this season as the newest member to Lon Kruger's staff. This marks a reunion with Kruger, for whom Henson played under at Kansas State from 1987-90.

Henson serves many roles as an assistant, including on-the-floor coaching, scouting, administrative aspects related to recruiting, and organizing and coordinating the highly successful Fighting Illini summer basketball camps.

Henson, who hails from McPherson, Kansas, etched his name into the history books as one of Kansas State's all-time greatest athletes. He was a four-year starting guard who was the first player in KSU history to play in four NCAA tournaments. Henson averaged nearly 20 points per game his junior and senior seasons as he racked up All-Big Eight and honorable mention All-American honors. He was a deadly scorer from anywhere on the floor, making 44.7 percent of his threes and shooting 44.2 from the field. Above all he was automatic from the free-throw line, averaging 90 percent for his career. Henson was only the second player in school history (Kruger was the first) to win the program's most inspirational player award three times. He left Kansas State with 11 Big Eight records and 21 school records. Even more impressive was the fact that Henson spent the offseasons competing in the decathlon for the K-State track team.

After earning his kinesiology degree in May of 1990, Henson was drafted in the second round by the Milwaukee Bucks. He spent two seasons with the Bucks before moving on to the Atlanta Hawks and Charlotte Hornets.

He spent 1994 with CBA franchises in Rapid City and Fargo, before jumping back into the NBA with the Portland Trailblazers. Henson then spent two seasons in Europe, starring for Virtus Rome, before coming back to the U.S. to play for the Detroit Pistons. He finished his professional career with Scavolini Pesaro in Europe in the spring of 1999, prior to accepting the coaching position with the Illini.

Steve and his wife Cindy live in Champaign with their two sons Quinton and Pearson.

Strength & Conditioning

It takes more to become a championship-caliber team than just showing up for the first day of practice. Jim Zielinski, Illinois' strength and conditioning coach, is committed to seeing every individual on the team become stronger, faster and the best overall athlete he can be.

"I believe that strength training has a huge impact on the success of a basketball team," Zielinski says.

He is a firm believer in individualizing a work out regiment for each player, because every person has individual needs and goals in his strength program.

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING COACH

Jim Zielinski

Veteran strength coach Jim Zielinski, who has spent the last four seasons as Director of Strength and Conditioning at Oregon State, returned to his home state this year as the head strength coach for the University of Illinois.

A native of Rockford, Ill., Zielinski graduated from Northern Illinois in 1986 where he was a defensive back under Coach Bill Mallory. He helped lead his squad to a win in the California Bowl in 1983.

A 10-year veteran of the business, Zielinski joins the UI staff after stints at Oregon State (1995-99), Northern Illinois (1988-95) and Nebraska (1988). During his time at OSU, he was responsible for the strength program design, speed and strength development, and all test and evaluation for the varsity sports.

From 1988-95, Zielinski was the head strength and conditioning coordinator for the Northern Illinois Huskies 16-sport program. During his six and a half years at NIU, Zielinski implemented the program design and monitored the athlete's daily progress.

He began his career as an assistant strength coach at the University of Nebraska.

Zielinski and his wife Teresa, have three children James Edward, Alexandra Marie and Zachary.

"We sit down with each and every player and pick out specific goals. That could be his body weight, a goal we want him to bench press or a goal we want him to squat," Zielinski added.

Zielinski also uses a hands-on approach to strength and conditioning training. He and his staff work individually with each player to ensure that the student-athlete is doing the exercises correctly.

He also emphasizes the mental preparation of strength training and how the mind prepares the players for the battle of the game. Another key in the strength program, especially down the stretch, is to prevent injuries. It is a long season with a lot of games and the teams which have put in the time in to become the best conditioned, rise above the rest down the stretch of the year.

Sports Medicine

When it comes to sports medicine, the University of Illinois has the finest in medical personnel to keep the Fighting Illini basketball players healthy and on the court. The sports medicine staff's No. 1 goal is the prevention of injuries, but in the unfortunate event of an injury the staff works diligently to get the athlete back into playing condition as quickly as possible.

Rod Cardinal, one of the best in his field, has been a long-time member of the training staff at the University of Illinois. He is in his 27th year working with men's basketball after being appointed assistant athletic trainer at the University in July 1973. Besides his responsibilities in athletic training, Cardinal holds the important job of travel manager for the Illini, which covers everything from booking charter service to hotel rooms to planning menus for meals on the road.

Prior to his appointment at Illinois, he served in a similar capacity at the U.S. Military Academy.

A native of Blaine, Minn., Cardinal graduated from Southwest State University (Minn.) in 1971 with a B.S. in health and physical education. He was a student trainer in high school, and in college for three years prior to his West Point position. He also played varsity basketball in college.

Cardinal earned a master's degree in 1977 from Illinois in physical education and sports medicine with an additional emphasis in educational administration. He received the Alumni Achievement Award from Southwest State University in 1995.

Cardinal, along with his wife, Mary have three grown children and reside in Tolono.

The sports medicine team would not be complete without the team physicians, who tend to the medical needs of the student-athletes. Dr. Stephen Soboroff is the head team physician and Dr. Robert Gurtler is the team orthopedic surgeon.

Soboroff has served in this capacity for the University of Illinois since 1983. He directs the drug-education and drug-testing programs, and provides consultations to the athletic training staff. He received his M.D. from the UI College of Medicine in Chicago in 1969, and is certified by the American Board of Internal Medicine. Soboroff serves on the University of Illinois faculty in the School of Medicine and the Department of Kinesiology.

Gurtler has also been on the team's medical staff since 1983. He is responsible for treating orthopedic injuries to athletes in varsity sports. In addition to his duties with the U of I, Gurtler has a private practice at Carle Hospital, focusing primarily on sports-related injuries.

1999-2000 Outlook

1999 Big Ten Tournament Runner-Up ... A perfect 7-0 in Australia in May 1999 ... Returning all five starters and eight letterwinners ... Adding three McDonald's High School All-Americans.

After a disappointing 14-18 season last year, there's plenty of reason for the Illini to be excited about the 1999-2000 season.

The Fighting Illini grabbed the attention of the nation in March when the 11th seeded team did the unthinkable...beat three straight ranked teams and advance to the Big Ten Tournament championship game. Although Illinois fell shy of the Cinderella trip to the NCAA Tournament with the loss to Michigan State in the finals, the team got a look at its future. Finally, after losing close game after close game in January and February, everything fell into place the first week of March. Now, riding on that wave of success, Illinois enters the 1999-2000 season with an air of confidence not seen throughout most of last season.

"Last year we had a very young club that gained valuable experience because the young players saw a lot of minutes on the floor," Illini head coach Lon Kruger said. "That, coupled with the opportunity to travel to Australia in the spring, has given this team a chance to really grow up.

"This group really handled last season very well. They came close in so many games and made progress throughout the season and then that hard work paid off in the Big Ten Tournament."

In May, Illinois players had the opportunity to travel to Australia for a seven game foreign tour. The team swept through the continent with a perfect 7-0 record and a new found scoring attack. The Illini averaged 96.4 points and six players averaged in double figures.

With all but two players returning from the 1999 season, the cupboard is looking well stocked for the upcoming year. In addition, Lon Kruger welcomes four newcomers that make up one of the nation's highest ranked recruiting classes and a high school All-American in Frank Williams, who sat out the 1999 season as a partial qualifier.

Joining the Illini squad are Marcus Griffin, the 1999 National Junior College Division II Player of the Year; Brian Cook, the 1999 Illinois Mr. Basketball and a McDonald's All-American; Sean Harrington, a finalist for Mr. Basketball in the state of Illinois who averaged 22.1 points as a senior and Jerrance Howard, a point guard who helped lead Peoria High School to a 23-4 record while dishing out 7.8 assists per game. Howard is currently a part-time student at Illinois and will join the team after he scores a qualifying mark on the A.C.T.

"This freshman class is loaded with potential, but potential is the operative word," Kruger said. "There are plenty of high school players who come to the college level with a lot of potential but what matters is doing the necessary things to be successful at the college level."

These players will join an Illini squad which returns 86 percent of the team's scoring and 82 percent of the rebounding. The Illini leaders in points, rebounds, assists, and steals all return for the 1999-2000 season.

"We have good balance inside and outside and we will have strong competition for playing time," Kruger said. "That is very healthy because it will make all the players push each other to become better.

"Our depth really allows and encourages us to push the ball up the floor offensively and play pressure defense. Our depth and level of athleticism will dictate what we are able to do."

BACKCOURT

Leading the backcourt attack are a freshman and sophomore guard combo in Cory Bradford and Frank Williams. Williams got his first playing action in Australia where he averaged 14.4 ppg and 3.0 assists in seven games. Bradford was the team's leading scorer a year ago while playing the point and this year he can slide back to his natural two-guard position.

In addition to Bradford and Williams, Kruger has the services of all-stater Harrington, junior Nate Mast, and walk-on Joe Cross, a transfer from Florida International and the younger brother of Dan Cross who played for Kruger at Florida. Cross is eligible after the first semester.

Cory Bradford and Cleotis Brown are the team's top returning scorers. Bradford led the Illini with 15.4 points per game and Brown averaged 9.2 points per game.

1999-2000 Outlook

FRONTCOURT

The Illini frontcourt has experience, depth and talent. Victor Chukwudebe, at 6-7, found his comfort zone while playing down low last year and started the final 14 games of the year at center. Never really counted on as a scorer, Chukwudebe proved he can play on both ends of the court last year. He just needs to shoot the ball more. In 97 games he has taken 10 or more shots only six times, all in 1998-99. In those six games he averaged 11.0 ppg and when he shot the ball well he also rebounded strong, averaging 8.7 rebounds in those games.

Two sophomores who saw considerable action as freshman are Damir Krupalija, a 12 game starter, and Robert Archibald, an eight game starter. Krupalija, who began the season as a red-shirt, was called into action in December and proved himself extremely valuable as the top rebounder on the team. He averaged 5.5 boards in 24 games. In three games against Indiana he averaged 12.7 rpg with a season high 16 against the Hoosiers in Bloomington to open the Big Ten schedule. Offensively he came into his own at the end of the year improving his 2.4 ppg average to 8.7 ppg over the last seven games of the year, including a season-high 19 points against Indiana in the final regular season game.

Archibald averaged 14.3 minutes and 3.1 points as a freshman, but the best is yet to come from this 6-11 forward. In the time from March-May he hit the weight room hard and added about 10 pounds to his frame. The dividends paid off in Australia where he averaged 11.7 ppg in six outings and shot 57 percent from the floor and a team-high 82 percent from the line.

Illinois adds two tremendous talents in Cook and Griffin to the frontcourt. Cook, the 1999 Illinois Mr. Basketball and a McDonald's All-American, averaged 21.7 points, 10.1 rebounds and 3.2 blocks as a senior. Griffin, who signed with Illinois out of high school then attended junior college, was the 1999 National Junior College Division II Player of the Year.

"This group of players is the start of a good foundation at Illinois. We have consistency in our classes which is a change from the last couple of years where we lost seven seniors in 1998 and then only had one senior last year," Kruger said.

SMALL FORWARD

The Illini have depth and size at the small forward position. Sergio McClain started 28 of 31 games and Lucas Johnson ended the season in the starting lineup and took opponents by surprise in the Big Ten Tournament by averaging 12.5 points in four games after going through the season as a 3.1 ppg scorer. McClain was the team's third highest scorer and he was second in the Big Ten in steals with 2.29 per game. He benefited greatly from the seven games in Australia where he really found what Kruger refers to as a, "comfort zone." He averaged 11.9 points and 3.5 rebounds and made big improvements at the free-throw line where he shot 77 percent, a big improvement from the 61 percent he shot during the season.

Cleotis Brown saw action in the starting lineup and was the team's second leading scorer last year. He is one of only two seniors on the squad.

College teammates Lou Kruger and Jim Molanari will face each other as head coaches for the third straight year when Illinois and Bradley meet on November 22, 1999 in Peoria, Ill.

1998-99 in Review

1998-99 in Review

With seven seniors graduated from the 1998 Big Ten Championship squad, Illini head coach Lon Kruger led one of the youngest and most inexperienced teams in the Big Ten to within one game of the 1999 NCAA Tournament.

Illinois closed out the non-conference schedule with an 8-4 mark, including a 67-50 win over 14th ranked Clemson on Dec. 29. The Illini faced a challenging conference season in the Big Ten, ranked as the strongest conference in the nation in 1999. As many as seven teams from the 11-team conference were ranked in the Top 25 during the course of the year and the Illini beat one of those top 25 teams and came within a few points of downing several others in the regular season. In January, the Illini's last second three-pointer to beat Michigan State rimmed out at the buzzer and No. 15 Ohio State only managed a three-point victory in Champaign. After opening the conference season with seven-straight losses, Illinois notched one in the win column at Michigan, where the Illini hadn't won since 1991. Illinois upset No. 11 Wisconsin in February and closed out the regular season with near misses against Purdue, Iowa and Indiana, which the Illini took to overtime.

Everything came together for the Illini in the first week of March when Illinois captured headlines across the nation as the last place Illini marched all the way to the tournament championship game. Illinois' magical run toward an NCAA Tournament berth was cut short by the second ranked Michigan State Spartans, but only after the Illini had defeated No. 23 Minnesota in the first round, No. 17 Indiana in the quarterfinals and No. 11 Ohio State in the semis.

Big Ten Freshman of the Year Cory Bradford was named to the All-Tournament team after leading the Illini with 18.8 points in four games. He also made a statement with his sharp shooting from three-point range. Bradford made 17-of-29 (.586) from behind the arc, which were more threes than every team, except Illinois, made in the tournament.

Other highlights from the tournament ... Lucas Johnson, who was averaging 3.1 points and shooting 26.5 percent from the field and 25 percent from three-point range, took opponents by surprise with his sharp shooting at the United Center. In four games, he was 14-for-28 (.500) from the field and was 6-for-14 (.429) from three-point range. He averaged 12.5 points including a season-high 17 against Indiana ... Damir Krupalija (Fr.) collected his third-straight 10-plus rebound game against Indiana. He had 10 boards against the Hoosiers in the tourney after getting 16 and 12 in the regular season games ... Victor Chukwudebe recorded double figures in two tournament games (Minnesota, Ohio State) and averaged 7.5 points in all four contests ... After going through the regular season as the Big Ten's lowest scoring team (61.9 ppg), Illinois produced its two highest scores of the year against Indiana (82) and Ohio State (79). The Illini averaged 69.5 ppg for the tournament.

Honors

Cory Bradford

- Basketball News All-Freshman second team
- Big Ten All-Tournament team
- Third-team All-Big Ten (coaches)
- CBS Player of the Game vs. Kansas, Ohio State (3/6), Michigan State (3/7)
- Broke the school record for three-pointers made in a season with his 85 treys in 1998-99. His 205 attempts are second in the Illini record book.
- Hit a three-pointer in every game this year, a first by an Illini player.
- He became the all-time leading freshman scorer in Illinois history with his 12th point against Indiana in the Big Ten Tournament. He scored 494 points this year which passed Illini all-time leading career scorer Deon Thomas, who had 452 in 1990-91.
- Selected to represent the United States on the 1999 World University Games team.

Lon Kruger

- Inducted into the state of Kansas Hall of Fame.
- One of five players selected to the 1999 National Association of Basketball Coaches Silver Anniversary Team. The five players were chosen on a combination of their college basketball careers and their careers since graduation.

Damir Krupalija

- CBS Player of the Game vs. Indiana (1/3)

Robert Archibald

- Selected to represent Great Britain on the 1999 World University Games team.

GAME 1

WAKE FOREST 75
ILLINOIS 73

November 10, 1998 Madison Square Garden
New York, NY Attendance: 13,239

The University of Illinois men's basketball team went into overtime in the season opener, only to fall to Wake Forest, 75-73, in the first round of the Coaches vs. Cancer Classic in Madison Square Garden.

Cory Bradford led the Illini charge with 20 points, while Sergio McClain added 17 points and junior transfer Cleotis Brown added 14 points. Rich Beyers hit a crucial three-pointer with time running out in regulation to knot the score, and send the game into overtime.

In the extra session, McClain opened the scoring by putting Illinois up 66-64 with a jumper. Wake Forest's Robert O'Kelley hit a trey to pull the Demon Deacons within one point and later hit two free throws to give his team a 74-73 lead. McClain was then called for a charge on the next possession, and Wake Forest held on for the 75-73 win.

ILLINOIS 65
GEORGETOWN 50

November 11, 1998 Madison Square Garden
New York, NY Attendance: 12,589

The University of Illinois won its first game of the season by defeating Georgetown, 65-50, in the third place game of the Coaches vs. Cancer Classic at Madison Square Garden.

Illinois and the Hoyas kept it close through most of the half, but the Illini closed out the opening period with an 11-5 run in the final five minutes to take a 31-19 lead. The Illini jumped on the Hoyas early in the second half with a 10-4 run to build an 18-point lead with 15 minutes remaining. Georgetown tried to chip away at the deficit, but could never get closer than 13 points.

Cory Bradford led the Orange and Blue for the second straight game with 19 points and another first-year player, Robert Archibald, came off the bench to add 14. Sergio McClain and Rich Beyers also contributed with 11 and 10 points, respectively. Illinois won the rebounding edge, 44-30.

GAME 3

GEO. WASHINGTON 64
ILLINOIS 58

November 17, 1998 Assembly Hall
Champaign, IL Attendance: 10,683

Back-to-back scores converted from backcourt steals by Roey Eyal and Shawnta Rogers turned a late deficit into a non-conference road win for George Washington in a 64-58 victory over Illinois in Champaign.

Illinois stormed back from a seven point deficit with seven minutes remaining to take a 54-52 edge when Lucas Johnson hit cutter Fess Hawkins for a reverse layup off the glass with 2:49 to go. Illinois extended its lead to four on a Robert Archibald free throw line jumper with 1:09 left.

Following a GW time out, Rogers pulled up off the dribble to stick a three from the top of the key over an outstretched Sergio McClain to pull the Colonials within one with :48 remaining. Free throws were exchanged to tie the score at 58-58 with 11 seconds on the clock.

Illinois, with starting point guard Cory Bradford fouled out, turned the ball over in its own backcourt twice in the game's final seconds. Eyal swiped the ball from McClain and laid in an off-balanced shot off the glass to put GW up two. Rogers, who led the Colonials with 19, then stole the ball from Cleotis Brown under the basket, drew a foul and made the game-clinching free throws.

ILLINOIS 70
ST. LOUIS 65

November 20, 1998 Assembly Hall
Champaign, IL Attendance: 12,586

The Fighting Illini went down to the wire with its opponent for the third time in four games, but this time things were different. Illinois used clutch free-throw shooting to edge the Billikens, 70-65. The Illini were led by Sergio McClain and his career-high 24 points.

Illinois shot 26-32 (81%) from the foul line; including 20-23 (87%) in the second-half. The Illini led 14-13 with 8:27 left in the first-half, but would not lead again until an acrobatic bank-shot by McClain with a 3:09 to play. The lead changed hands once again, but two free-throws by McClain with 1:38 left gave the Orange and Blue the lead for good. McClain was 8-9 from the charity stripe in the game, all coming in the second-half.

Point-guard Cory Bradford added 12 points and center Fess Hawkins got a hard-earned 11 points to go along with seven rebounds. McClain also played big defensively with three steals.

GAME 5

ILLINOIS 71
TENN.-MARTIN 35

November 23, 1998 Assembly Hall
Champaign, IL Attendance: 10,496

Lon Kruger's Fighting Illini basketball team moved to 3-2 on the season as they trounced Tennessee-Martin, 71-35, at the Assembly Hall. Illinois outscored UTM 45-14 in the second-half to create the large margin of victory.

While the Illini had a poor shooting effort in the first-half (29%), they went into the half with a slim 26-21 lead. A rebounding advantage of seven and defensive hustle allowed the Orange and Blue to battle through their first-half shooting difficulties. Illinois looked like a different team offensively in the second-half, shooting 57 percent from the field.

Cleotis Brown led the way for Illinois with 13 points on 6-of-12 shooting. Cory Bradford added 11 points and Sergio McClain had another good effort with 10 points.

GAME 6

ILLINOIS 71
TEXAS-PAN AM. 56

November 28, 1998 Fieldhouse
Edinburg, TX Attendance: 2,463

The University of Illinois men's basketball team survived an early scare at Texas Pan-American, as the visitors faced a four-point deficit at the half before rallying to a 71-56 victory on Saturday night.

Texas Pan-American, where Illinois' Lon Kruger got his first head coaching job, shot 45 percent in the first half, including three of three from beyond the arc, to take a 37-33 lead into the break. The Illini rallied in the second half, quickly overtaking the lead and cruising to a 71-56 victory.

Cleotis Brown led the Orange and Blue with a career-high 24 points while Victor Chukwudebe came off the bench to earn a double-double with 13 points and 13 rebounds.

GAME 7

ILLINOIS 53
VALPARAISO 49

November 30, 1998 Assembly Hall
Champaign, IL Attendance: 10,842

The Illini used a well balanced attack to control the first half of their contest against the Crusaders. Cory Bradford was the front-runner in scoring with seven points, and Arias Davis added two three-pointers to contribute to Illinois' 28-23 halftime lead. The Illini also held the defensive advantage. The team had a total of seven steals during the period including three by Cleotis Brown.

Early in the second half, Valparaiso coach Homer Drew was given a technical foul which enabled the Illini to take an 11 point lead. The Crusaders bounced back though, taking a 41-40 lead when Terrance Price was fouled while shooting a lay-up and completed the three point play. Illinois regained the lead on the next possession and controlled the remainder of the game. Sergio McClain paced the Illini with 14 points in the 53-49 victory.

GAME 8

ILLINOIS 53
BRADLEY 48

December 5, 1998 United Center
Chicago, IL Attendance: 11,084

The Illini won their fourth United Center game under Lon Kruger, edging out Bradley 53-48, in a low-scoring contest featuring poor shooting and 43 combined turnovers.

Bradley jumped out to an early lead by scoring nine of the first 12 points. The Illini responded, as freshmen Cory Bradford and Lucas Johnson combined for nine points in an 11-0 run to take a 14-9 lead with 10:12 left in the half. The Illini ended the half on a 10-4 run, sparked by two free throws by freshman Damir Krupalija. Krupalija who was originally supposed to redshirt the season, was inserted into the lineup during the first half of the game.

Despite a five-point lead at the break, the Illini never took over the game, as Bradley stayed close throughout the second half. UI built a nine-point cushion, at 51-42 with 1:32 left in the game, and held on for the 53-48 victory.

Junior guard Cleotis Brown led all scorers with 16 points and added 5 boards, while Cory Bradford scored 11 points.

GAME 9

ILLINOIS 70
EASTERN ILLINOIS 67

December 12, 1999 Assembly Hall
Champaign, IL Attendance: 12,273

The Fighting Illini men's basketball team once again went down to the wire before claiming victory as they edged the Eastern Illinois Panthers 70-67.

Prior to the game, the current Illini honored the 1997-98 Big Ten Championship season by raising a new banner to the roof of Assembly Hall. Former Illini Brian Johnson and David Freeman were on-hand for the ceremony.

The Illini trailed for most of the first half, but managed to grab back the lead on three occasions thanks to Cory Bradford's 12 first-half points. Predominantly playing the shooting guard position for the first time, Bradford led all scorers in the game with 19 points.

The fast-paced action continued in the second-half with similar results for the Illini as they fell down by nine points with 14:45 remaining. Illinois then came out after a 20-second time out and ran off a 15-6 run over the next eight minutes.

Sergio McClain took over the point guard duties and added 11 points. Brown added 15 points, including two clutch baskets late in the game. The Illini out-rebounded EIU, 35-24, but the visitors out-shot UI, 49 percent to 46 percent from the floor. Eastern also canned eight three pointers, including five in the first half.

ILLINOIS 55
 December 19, 1998 Kemper Arena
 Kansas City, MO Attendance: 13,728

Illinois' six-game win streak came to an end as No. 13 Kansas took advantage of 27 Illini turnovers and a huge disparity at the free throw line to pull away for a 65-55 win at Kemper Arena in Kansas City, Mo.

Both teams struggled from the floor, as the Jayhawks shot only 37 percent while the Illini hit at 33 percent. Illinois out-rebounded Kansas 52-36, including 22 offensive boards, but could not overcome 27 turnovers.

Cory Bradford poured in a game-high 26 points, including 6-7 from three-point range, while Cleotis Brown added 12 points and nine rebounds. Kansas was paced by the inside-outside duo of Eric Chenoweth and Ryan Robertson. Chenoweth dominated the post with 18 points, nine boards and seven blocked shots while Robertson hit 10 of 10 free throws on his way to 18 points.

GAME 11

MISSOURI 67
ILLINOIS 62
 December 22, 1998 Kiel Center
 St. Louis, MO Attendance: 22,471

Missouri and Illinois battled it out in another memorable Braggin' Rights contest. The Tigers and the Illini played to a draw in the first half. The Tigers were in the lead most of the half but a jumper by Fess Hawkins with 33 seconds left in the period tied the score at 25 going into the break. Both teams shot under 35% for the half.

Hawkins got the Illini started early in the second half by hitting another jump shot that gave Illinois the first lead of the second half. However, Missouri took over after that and work their way up to an 11 point advantage. Illinois hit three pointers on its next three positions to cut the deficit to 52-47 with 5:15 remaining in the contest. The Tigers built their lead back up to 11 points before the Illini comeback with three more three pointers in the final two minutes of the game. Despite the offensive attack, the Illini fell five points short as they lost to the Tigers 67-62.

GAME 12

ILLINOIS 67
#14 CLEMSON 50
 December 29, 1998 Bilo Center
 Greenville, SC Attendance: 14,687

Seldom-used guard Arias Davis exploded for a career-high 20 points, including four treys, to lead the Illini to a 67-50 upset of No. 16 Clemson in Greenville, S.C.

Davis had totaled only 16 points in the first 11 games of the season before rallying 20 points against Clemson. He hit 4-8 three-pointers and 6-8 free throws in a season-high 22 minutes of play off the bench.

The Illini were scoreless nearly seven minutes into the game, but Clemson could build only a 7-0 advantage during that time. Davis was the spark for Illinois, hitting his second trey to put UI ahead for the first time. That shot sparked a 9-2 run to give the Illini a 20-15 advantage.

Illinois broke the game open in the second half, scoring 11 of the first 12 points after the break to build a 38-23 lead. From there, Clemson never cut the lead below double digits.

Cory Bradford added 16 points for the Illini and Sergio McClain scored 12 points. Illinois' dominance on the boards was reflected by first-year Illini Damir Krupalija and Fess Hawkins, as the duo grabbed 11 and 10 rebounds respectively. Clemson was led by Terrell McIntyre's 15 points and Harold Jamison's 17 rebounds.

GAME 13

#10 INDIANA 62
ILLINOIS 53

January 3, 1999 Assembly Hall
Bloomington, IN Attendance: 7,249

Illinois opened the conference slate on the road against rival Indiana. In a back-and-forth first half, the Fighting Illini took their biggest lead of the game at 26-22 on a Damir Krupalija layup with 4:26 remaining. IU responded to tie the score and the half ended with both teams knotted at 28-28.

The Hoosiers quickly took a four-point lead to start the second half before the Illini rallied. A Cory Bradford three-pointer tied the score at 34-34 and a jumper by Victor Chukwudebe put Illinois ahead 38-37 with 11:54 left in the game. On the next possession, Recker hit the first of three consecutive treys to spark an 11-1 run that put the Hoosiers ahead 48-39. Recker's outburst was exactly what Indiana was looking for, and the hosts never looked back, holding on for the 62-53 victory.

The Illini turned the ball over 18 times and could hit only 9-19 from the line, compared to 19-28 by Indiana. The Hoosiers also held a 21-7 advantage in points off of turnovers in the game.

#19 IOWA 84
ILLINOIS 62

January 7, 1999 Carver-Hawkeye Arena
Iowa City, IA Attendance: 14,301

Thanks to poor shooting and a huge rebounding deficit, Illinois ended its tough five-game road trip with an 84-62 loss at No. 19 Iowa.

Illinois shot only 40 percent from the floor, compared to 51 percent for the Hawkeyes. The Illini were also out-rebounded 44-26, which led to a huge free throw disparity as the hosts hit more free throws (23-32) than Illinois attempted (9-14) in the game.

The Orange and Blue jumped out to a 14-4 lead nearly five minutes into the game. Iowa responded with the first of its three first-half runs, scoring the next 12 points to take a 16-14 lead. The Illini reclaimed the lead at 22-16 before Iowa went on an 11-0 run to build a 27-22 advantage. After Illinois cut the lead to 29-27, the Hawkeyes used their final run of the half, a 12-3 spurt, to build a 41-30 halftime advantage.

Cleotis Brown led the Illini with 19 points and nine rebounds while Arias Davis came off the bench to hit three treys and total 13 points. Five Hawkeyes scored in doubles figures, led by Kent McCausland's 13 points and Jess Settles' double-double of 11 points and 11 boards.

GAME 15

NORTHWESTERN 59
ILLINOIS 46

January 9, 1999 Assembly Hall
Champaign, IL Attendance: 12,255

In its first home game in nearly a month, Illinois was held to 28 percent shooting from the field as Northwestern won for the first time at the Assembly Hall since 1979, by the score of 59-46.

The Wildcats rode the inside dominance of Evan Eschmeyer and the shooting of the NU guards to send Illinois to its first three-game losing streak since Lon Kruger was named head coach.

Northwestern opened the game by outscoring Illinois 25-7, as NU guards Julian Bonner and Sean Wink both knocked down two three-pointers in the streak. The Illini battled back to within 11 points at 27-16 on a Lucas Johnson three-pointer before NU ended the half on a 6-2 run to take a 33-18 advantage into the break.

Illinois was held to 28 percent from the field in the game, including only 4-26 from three-point range, as Northwestern shot 41 percent and hit eight treys.

Cory Bradford was the only Illini to score in double-figures, as he poured in a game-high 22 points. For Northwestern, Eschmeyer nabbed another double-double with 16 points and 17 rebounds while Wink hit 4-5 from behind the arc to score 12 points.

#13 PURDUE 63
ILLINOIS 54

January 13, 1999 Mackey Arena
West Lafayette, IN Attendance: 14,123

No. 13 Purdue pulled away for a 63-54 win, thanks to the long-range bombing of Jaraan Cornell, to keep the Illini winless in the Big Ten.

Illinois turned the game into a tough, defensive struggle early, as the two teams were tied 15-15 after the first 11 minutes. The Boilermakers took command after that, ending the half on 17-6 run, including three treys from Cornell, to claim a 32-21 lead at the break.

Trailing 49-35, the Illini went on a 12-3 run as Cory Bradford's three-pointer cut the deficit to five points at 52-47 with 7:14 left in the game. However, Illinois came no closer as Cornell hit his fifth three-pointer of the night to end UI's run.

The Illini out-shot the Boilermakers, 42 percent to PU's 41 percent, and won the rebounding battle 38-28. The difference in the game may have been Illinois' 23 turnovers and the free throw disparity, as PU made more free throws (17-25) than UI attempted (5-9).

GAME 17

#14 MICHIGAN STATE 51
ILLINOIS 49

January 16, 1999 Assembly Hall
Champaign, IL Attendance: 15,428

Cory Bradford's desperation three-pointer from beyond half court just missed, as the Illini nearly pulled off the upset over No. 14 Michigan State, falling 51-49.

The Illini opened the game with only three points in the first eight minutes and MSU built a 13-3 lead. Michigan State ended the half with a 27-17 lead, after the Illini shot just 21 percent from the floor.

The Illini cut into the lead early in the second half, going on a 6-0 run to pull within 31-28 with 14:44 on the clock. Illinois trailed only 38-34 with 8:23 left in the game when MSU went on a 6-0 run to build a 44-34 advantage with only 5:54 remaining in the game.

But the Illini fought their way back and after two MSU free throws, Bradford hit another bucket to make it a one-point game with seconds left. MSU's Antonio Smith was fouled and missed the first free throw. Damir Krupalija rebounded the ball and kicked it out to Bradford, who released a shot just before halfcourt that hit the backboard and the front of the rim before falling away, as the Spartans survived for a 51-49 win.

GAME 18

#15 WISCONSIN 75
ILLINOIS 53

January 20, 1999 Kohl Center
Madison, WI Attendance: 16,112

Poor shooting and turnovers hurt Illinois once again, as No. 16 Wisconsin rolled to a 75-53 win sending the Illini to their worst Big Ten start since 1912.

Sergio McClain's sprained ankle kept him out of the starting lineup and walk-on Nate Mast was again pushed into starting duties.

The game was close until turnovers began to turn the tide. Mast turned the ball over on consecutive possessions and Wisconsin took advantage, grabbing a 17-9 lead just eight minutes into the game.

Illinois shot only 29 percent in the first half while Wisconsin made 46 percent. The shooting improved in the second half, but not enough for the Illini. Leading 42-28 with 16:43 left in the game, the hosts put the game away with a 17-2 run, sparked by two three-pointers from reserve Jon Bryant, to build a 59-30 lead at the 10:23 mark. The lead eventually ballooned to as large as 30 points before Illinois closed the gap to a 75-53 final score.

GAME 19

PENN STATE 65
ILLINOIS 61

January 23, 1999 Assembly Hall
Champaign, IL Attendance: 12,552

Clinging to a two-point lead with 1:38 left in the game, Illinois could not hold on as Penn State scored the final six points of the game to earn a 65-61 win at the Assembly Hall.

Neither team could claim more than a four-point advantage in the first fifteen minutes of the opening stanza, as the Illini built a 25-22 lead with 5:22 left in the half. The second half featured four ties and ten lead changes, as the two teams battled back and forth. The lead changed hands seven times in the final four minutes of the game as the two teams traded baskets before a Victor Chukwudebe free throw knotted the score at 59-59 with 1:58 left in the game.

Illinois' Sergio McClain picked off a Penn State crosscourt pass and broke down the court for a two-handed slam to put the Illini up 61-59 at the 1:38 mark. That was the last points Illinois would score in the game, as PSU's Calvin Booth spun past Chukwudebe for a layup to tie the score at 61-61. With less than a minute left, Penn State's Crispin picked off a UI pass and drove to the other end to hit a high-arching jump shot to give the visitors the 63-61 advantage and his two free throws in the final seconds sealed the win for the Lions.

GAME 20

ILLINOIS 61
MICHIGAN 59

January 28, 1999 Crisler Arena
Ann Arbor, MI Attendance: 10,784

With less than ten seconds in the game, Lucas Johnson weaved past UM defenders down the court and dished off to Victor Chukwudebe for a short baseline jumper to propel the Illini to their first Big Ten win of the season, 61-59, in Ann Arbor. The win was the first for the Illini in Ann Arbor since 1991.

Illinois built a lead in the first half of the game using easy transition buckets and contributions off the bench. A three-pointer by Arias Davis gave the Illini their largest lead of the half at eight points and the visitors went into the break with a 32-24 advantage.

The Illini burst out of the gate in the second half to build their largest lead of the game at 37-24. The hosts responded with an 11-0 run, including eight points from guard Louis Bullock, to slash the deficit to 37-35 with 15:17 on the clock. With less than a minute left in the game, Michigan's Robbie Reid hit a long three-pointer to push the Wolverines ahead 58-56. Illinois hit another clutch shot, as Johnson hit a trey from the corner to give the Illini a 59-58 advantage with 40 seconds left in the game.

#15 OHIO STATE 64
ILLINOIS 61

January 30, 1999 Assembly Hall
Champaign, IL Attendance: 13,756

Despite leading almost the entire game, Illinois could not hold on in the last three minutes as No. 15 Ohio State rallied for a 64-61 victory despite a career-high 29 points from Illini freshman Cory Bradford.

With the Illini ahead 52-45, Ohio State scored nine of the next 11 points in the game to knot the score at 54-54 on a Scoonie Penn layup. Penn followed that with two free throws to give the visitors a 56-54 lead at the 3:09 mark, their first lead since the beginning of the contest. Illinois responded with two free throws from McClain to tie the score, before Ohio State's Johnson hit a free throw to make it 57-56. Bradford came back for the Illini, fading away over a double-team to hit a tough jumper and give the hosts a 58-57 lead with only 1:37 on the clock.

After an OSU time-out, Buckeye reserve Neshawn Coleman hit his third trey of the game, to give the visitors a 60-58 lead. The two teams traded free throws before Illinois' Lucas Johnson hit two free throws to tie the score for the final time at 61-61 with 44 seconds left in the game. In the end, Ohio State hit their free throws and the Illini could not put the ball in the basket, as the Buckeyes pushed ahead for the 64-61 victory.

#18 MINNESOTA 75
ILLINOIS 63

February 3, 1999 Williams Arena
Minneapolis, MN Attendance: 14,792

Despite an early challenge by the Fighting Illini, No. 18 Minnesota used a 14-2 run to end the first half with a big lead and then coasted to a 75-63 victory at Williams Arena in Minneapolis.

After his career-high 29 point performance against Ohio State, Cory Bradford came out on fire again, scoring nine of Illinois' first 13 points to give the visitors a 13-8 advantage. The game remained tight, as a Damir Krupalija three-point-er gave Illinois a 20-19 lead at the 9:31 mark in the first half.

After a 20 second time-out, Minnesota began the run that put the game out of reach. At the 4:21 mark, Miles Tarver hit a jumper to spark a 14-0 run that gave the hosts a 41-27 lead.

Minnesota exploded out of the gate in the second half, scoring the first seven points to build a 48-29 advantage. The hosts took a commanding 54-32 lead, having outscored the Illini 27-5 since the score was tied at 27-27 with five minutes left in the first half.

GAME 23

ILLINOIS 53
#11 WISCONSIN 51

February 6, 1999 Assembly Hall
Champaign, IL Attendance: 14,062

Illinois turned a nine-point deficit into a two point win in the final 4:10 against Wisconsin for a 53-51 win, its first Big Ten home victory in 1999. The Illini trailed by as many as 17 points in the second half against the Badgers, and did not lead in the second half until the :07 mark.

Down by five with 43 seconds left, Illinois freshman Cory Bradford strung an off-balanced, tightly-guarded three point field goal over Mike Kelley, cutting the lead to two. Sergio McClain drew a foul on Charlie Wills and connected on a free throw with :24 left to trim the lead to one.

Sean Mason, Wisconsin's leading scorer in the game and an 83 percent foul shooter on the year, missed the front end of a one-and-one with :21 left. On the ensuing possession, Bradford stormed into the lane against Kelley, sank an off-balanced runner and drew the foul. Bradford added the free throw to give Illinois its first lead since the end of the first half.

Bradford led all scorers with 26 points on 9 of 20 shooting, including 7 of 11 from three-point range. The freshman had nine points in the final 1:23 and scored nearly half the Illini's game total.

GAME 24

#5 MICHIGAN STATE 61
ILLINOIS 44

February 11, 1999 Breslin Center
East Lansing, MI Attendance: 14,659

The Fighting Illini were never in the game, as No. 5 Michigan State jumped out to leads of 15-2 and 26-6 before coasting through the second half for a 61-44 win in East Lansing.

The Illini shot only 24 percent from the field in the first half and had ten turnovers that led to 13 Spartan points. Meanwhile, Michigan State shot 54 percent in the first half with only five turnovers.

Illinois was scoreless through the first five minutes of the game until a Sergio McClain jumper made it 6-2 at the 14:54 mark. From that point, MSU went on a 9-0 run to build a 15-2 lead. After a Cory Bradford three-point-er cut the lead to ten points, Michigan State went on an 11-1 run to claim a 26-6 lead with 6:39 left in the half, as MSU point guard Mateen Cleaves assisted on each of the last three baskets in the run.

The 44 points were a season-low for Illinois, as leading-scorer Bradford was hounded by the Spartan defense into 4-of-17 shooting from the field for 13 points. Bradford was the only Illini in double-figures.

GAME 25

#21 PURDUE 63
ILLINOIS 56

February 13, 1999 Assembly Hall
Champaign, IL Attendance: 15,473

It was Cory Bradford vs. Jaraan Cornell in a Big Ten shoot-out that went down to the wire. Bradford scored 23, Cornell a career-high 30, and both players raised the stakes two points at a time in a 40-minute, see-saw battle.

In contrast to most of the game, the decisive basket was scored not by Cornell or Bradford, but by Purdue guard Carson Cunningham. Coming out of a time-out with 1:01 left, Cunningham scored to put Purdue ahead 59-54 and put the game out of reach from the Illini.

Purdue controlled the first ten minutes, jumping out to a nine point lead on a Cameron Stephens putback with 10:46 left. The Illini then charged back with a 10-0 run over the next 4:35 to take a 16-15 lead with 6:11 to play.

Illinois carried its momentum into the second half, building an 11 point lead in the first two minutes. Purdue gradually cut the lead down to one with 9:12 left. The teams exchanged the lead four times in the next five minutes.

In the scoring shoot-out, Cornell was 9 of 18 from the floor and made 7 of 8 free throws. Bradford was also 9 of 18, draining 4 of 8 three point attempts.

GAME 26

ILLINOIS 69
NORTHWESTERN 63

February 17, 1999 Welsh-Ryan Arena
Evanston, IL Attendance: 7,314

After a rough start that included missing his first seven shots, Illinois' Cory Bradford exploded in the second half and along with clutch shots from teammate Sergio McClain down the stretch, the Illini battled for a 69-63 victory at Northwestern.

The first half was tight as the two teams traded leads through the first 15 minutes of the game. Leading just 30-28 with 4:22 left in the first half, the Wildcats ended the half on a 7-1 run to build their largest lead of the night at 37-29.

Bradford began to heat up early in the second half, hitting his first shot from the field at the 16:00 mark. Bradford hit four consecutive jumpers for the Illini, scoring all the points in an 8-4 run that cut a 40-33 lead down to 44-41 with 12:05 on the clock. The Illini continued their run and a jumper by Victor Chukwudebe gave the visitors their first lead since midway through the first half.

After a free throw by Krupalija, McClain hustled to tip in his own miss to put the Illini up 63-59 with one minute left.

GAME 27

#20 IOWA 78
ILLINOIS 72

February 21, 1999 Assembly Hall
Champaign, IL Attendance: 16,450

Holding a four-point lead with just eight minutes left in the game, Illinois lost its shooting touch asnd Iowa went on a 17-3 to earn its first victory in Champaign since 1987.

In a back-and-forth first half, neither team led by more than five points. Trailing 23-21, Cleotis Brown scored all the points in an 8-1 Illini run that gave the hosts a 29-24 advantage. Iowa responded with its own 8-2 run to retake the lead at 32-31 before the Illini ended the half by scoring seven of the last nine points to claim a 38-34 lead at the break.

The two teams remained close in the second half and the score was knotted at 50-50 with 10:46 on the clock. A jumper by Sergio McClain followed by another Brown three-pointer gave the Illini a 55-51 advantage. From that point, Illinois' shooting went cold, as the Hawkeyes ran off a 17-3 run to build their largest lead of the game at 68-58 with 3:08 left.

The Hawkeyes clinched the game at the free throw line, hitting 6-6 down the stretch to hold on for the 78-72 win.

GAME 28

#20 INDIANA 70
ILLINOIS OT 64

February 24, 1999 Assembly Hall
Champaign, IL Attendance: 14,390

Trailing by 15 points early in the second half, Illinois rallied to force overtime only to fall to Indiana, 70-64, in the final Big Ten regular season game.

The Hoosiers burst out of the gates in the second half, scoring the first 10 points of the half to build their largest lead of the game at 40-25 with 16:49 on the clock. The Illini responded, chipping away at the lead and going on a 19-1 run to reclaim a 44-41 advantage. The Orange and Blue eventually claimed a 53-48 lead on two Krupalija free throws, his sixth made free throw in six attempts, with 2:09 on the clock. Krupalija forced overtime after being fouled on a Bradford putback. The freshman missed the first free throw but hit the second to send the game to overtime.

In the extra session, Indiana took the lead on three straight possessions only to see the Illini knot the score each time. Finally, the Hoosier's Kirk Haston hit a short hook shot over Chukwudebe to give Indiana the lead for good with 53 seconds left in the game. Two Haston free throws made it 66-62 and after Illinois' Bradford missed a three-pointer, Indiana hit 4-6 free throws down the stretch to seal the victory.

GAME 29

ILLINOIS 67
#23 MINNESOTA 64

March 4, 1999 United Center
Chicago, IL Attendance: 18,641

The Fighting Illini got off to a fast start and held an 18-8 lead after the first ten minutes of the game. The Illinois lead climbed as high as 22 points on a three by Lucas Johnson with 4:30 left to go in the first half. The Illini shot 48.4% as a team in the first half compared to just 25.0% shooting for the Gophers.

Illinois retained the double digit lead through the first 5 minutes of the second half before the Gophers came back strong. Minnesota eventually reclaimed the lead at 45-44 lead with 9:23 left to go in the game. After that there were two ties before two straight three pointers by Bradford gave the Illini the lead for good with 6:30 left in the game. A jump shot by Minnesota's Kevin Nathaniel cut the Gopher deficit to 2 with 3:9 seconds left, but a free throw by Damir Krupalija sealed the Illini victory.

The Gophers outscored the Illini 41-29 in the second half, but the large halftime lead aided the close victory in Illinois' first game of the tournament. Bradford scored 22 in the Illinois win and Chukwudebe and Johnson each added 12 to the Illini total. The Illini shot 44.4% from the field for the game, and Illinois became the first #11 seed to win in the Big Ten Tournament.

GAME 30

ILLINOIS 82
#17 INDIANA 66

March 5, 1999 United Center
Chicago Illinois Attendance: 20,297

Indiana took an early lead on a quick layup by Luke Recker. However, Illinois' first lead of the night came just seconds later on a three pointer by Damir Krupalija. Indiana regained the lead and held it until a Cleotis Brown layup tied the game at 15 with 12:35 left to go. A layup by Sergio McClain recaptured the lead for the Illini and they remained in control for the remainder of the half.

The Illini came out strong in the second half and forged their first double-digit lead of the game on a three by Bradford with 16:28 left. The closest the Hoosiers ever came was an A.J. Guyton three pointer that brought Indiana to within eight points. Two free throws by Fess Hawkins gave the Illini a ten point lead and they never looked back. The largest lead for the Illini came when Bradford hit a three point shot with 2:05 left in the game to bring the score to 79-60.

Lucas Johnson was the high scorer for the Illini with 17 points. However, Bradford added 15 to the cause which gave him a total of 456 points for the year. That broke the Illinois school record for points by a freshman, 452, originally set by Deon Thomas.

GAME 31

ILLINOIS 79
#11 OHIO STATE 77

March 6, 1999 United Center
Chicago, IL Attendance: 20,695

After two upsets in two days, the Fighting Illini were paired up against the second seeded Buckeyes in the Big Ten Tournament Semifinals.

The Illini extended their great offensive play by shooting 48.3% from the field. For the second night in a row, Johnson set the pace for the Illini by contributing 10 points in the first half.

Ohio State scored first in the second half tying the game at 33 barely three minutes into the half. A Bradford jumper gave the Illini the lead again. The Illinois advantage reached as high as 11 after Sergio McClain was fouled while shooting a layup and completed the three point play. With 1:52 left in the game, a three by Ohio State's Neshawn Coleman tied the contest at 70. Bradford then hit two free throws helping the Illini to take the lead for good.

Once again Illinois had a great shooting night to pull their third upset of the tourney with a 79-77 win. the Illini shot 51.0% from the field for the game. Bradford was the leading scorer with 17. With the win, the 11th-seeded Illini battled through three consecutive upsets to earn a spot in the Championship game of the Big Ten Tournament.

GAME 32

#2 MICHIGAN STATE 67
ILLINOIS 50

March 7, 1999 United Center
Chicago, IL Attendance: 19,581

On the fourth day of the tournament, the first half did not go as well for the Illini as it had for the past three nights. Illinois never trailed by more than five for the first 15 minutes of the game. However the final five minutes of the half were dominated by Michigan State as the Spartans took a 13 point lead into the halftime break.

For the first time in the tournament, none of the Illini scored in double-digits in the first half. Cory Bradford was the leading scorer with eight. Michigan State scored 14 points off of Illinois turnovers while the Illini were unable to capitalize on any of the four Spartan miscues.

The Spartans added to their lead after the break, leading by as many as 26 points twice during the period. The Illini cut the Spartan lead to 15 on a Bradford three with 3:33 to go. A tip in by Morris Peterson with just under a minute to go gave the Spartans a 67-50 victory.

Cory Bradford, the only Illini in double figures, paced the team with 21 points. For his effort, Bradford was named to the All-tournament team.

Head Coach Elwood Brown (1 year, 6-8, .429)

Leo Hana was put in charge of building the basketball program at Illinois after a women's program had existed for years. A team, led by its playing captain Roy Riley, beat Champaign High School Jan. 6, two weeks before Hana was able to replace Riley with a "professional" coach. Elwood Brown became Illinois' first basketball coach Jan. 20, 1906, and proceeded to turn in a commendable coaching job, especially since the squad lost two of its mainstays during the season. "The results of the season were on the whole satisfactory. In the future, there will not be such a lack of material as hampered the coach (Brown) this season," wrote the 1907 Illio.

Head Coach F.L. Pinckney (1 year, 1-10, .090)

Pinckney took over the coaching reins for a year in 1907. There was promise for a good season after the solid start the program had made in 1906. More than 100 men tried out for the team. Pinckney found at least three freshman he thought would help the team and placed them on the varsity squad. However, the Western Conference Committee declared the three ineligible, leaving Pinckney with a much depleted team and Illinois with its worst record ever. The decision to make the freshmen ineligible gave Pinckney the same problem Brown faced the year before - turning out a winning team with limited talent.

Head Coach Fletcher Lane (1 year, 20-6, .769)

Fletcher Lane's all-time best winning percentage among Illinois coaches is misleading, since he only coached for one year. His 20-6 team of 1908 benefited from a long Southern trip in which the team beat several YMCA and club teams from Tennessee, Texas, Alabama, and Georgia. The club was billed as a closely-knit group, due in part to the long trip. The players, however, did not appear to appreciate Lane's coaching style. M.G. Dadant, the 1908 captain wrote, "Handicapped as they were by the lack of any competent coaching, the players went through the season in perfect harmony, each one relinquishing any personal feelings that the team might be better as a whole."

Head Coach H.V. Juul (2 years, 12-10, .545)

H. V. Juul became the first Illinois basketball coach to stay for more than one year. He also became the first former Fighting Illini player to head the Illinois basketball program and was captain of the 1907 squad. After leading Illinois to a 12-10 record over two years, he departed to become a professional baseball player, enjoying stints with the Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds. Juul was the son of a former Illinois

Congressman and, prior to his death in 1928, was a committeeman in the 35th Ward in Chicago as well as campaign director for the Republican Party headquarters at the Morrison Hotel in Chicago.

Head Coach T.E. Thompson (2 years, 14-14, .500)

T. E. Thompson also had a two-year career as head basketball coach at Illinois, compiling a 14-14 record. Thompson claimed, at the time, to be the only player in Western Conference history to have played five years of collegiate basketball. He was at Northwestern for one year before playing at Illinois for four additional seasons. In addition to his duties as basketball coach at Illinois in 1911-12, he also served as Athletic Director George Huff's only assistant in the athletic department, doubling as the school's general manager of athletics and as ticket manager. After leaving the university, he founded The Thomas Thompson Company in Highland Park, Ill., a manufacturer of enamel products.

Head Coach Ralph Jones (8 years, 85-34, .714)

After arriving at Illinois from Purdue, Ralph Jones left an impressive legacy behind in Champaign. Besides coaching freshman football and baseball during his tenure at Illinois, he was credited by some with originating the fast break in basketball. After leading the Fighting Illini to one outright crown and the sharing of one other conference championship, Jones left to coach at Wabash and eventually Lake Forest Academy.

In addition, Jones was head coach of the Chicago Bears from 1930-33, where, among other achievements, he was credited with the revival of the T-formation, and the use of a man in motion to throw off the defense.

Head Coach Frank Winters (2 years, 25-12, .676)

While in his two-year stint as coach of the Illinois basketball team, Frank Winters was faced with having only a handful of veteran players available and was forced into installing an entirely new system of play. His 25-12 record in two years was a testament to the way Winters made negatives into positives. Upon arriving as head coach in the fall of 1920, he inherited a team whose best player, Chuck Carney, had just severely injured his knee in the last football game. Nonetheless, the team went on to an 11-7 record and improved to 14-5 in the 1922 campaign.

Head Coach J. Craig Ruby (14 years, 148-95, .609)

J. Craig Ruby was known as one of the great basketball tacticians of his time. He and legendary Kansas coach Phog Allen actively campaigned together for higher baskets to offset the advantage of tall centers. Ruby alone advocated the elimination of the dribble to do away with stalling, and wanted the hoop enlarged to 20 inches in diameter rather than the standard 18. Ruby's second season at Illinois produced a tie for the Big Ten championship in 1924, but it was not until 1935 that he could lead his team to tie for top conference honors again.

Head Coach Douglas R. Mills (11 years, 151-66, .696)

Doug Mills was not only an extremely successful basketball coach at Illinois, but one of the University's most prolific and long-standing administrators. He began his association with Fighting Illini athletics as a standout in both football and basketball in the late 1920s. Mills became the first Illinois head basketball coach to lead his squad to three Big Ten crowns. Also included in his 11-year coaching tenure was the formation of the legendary "Whiz Kids" team of 1942 and '43. That team won back-to-back Big Ten crowns. After retiring from the coaching ranks in 1947, Mills retained his position as athletic director until 1966.

Head Coach Harry Combes (20 years, 316-150, .678)

Harry Combes only had to move across town after accepting the job as head coach at Illinois. Prior to joining the Illini, he had been head coach at Champaign High School where he posted an astounding 254-46 record, including winning the state title in 1946. Once at Illinois he won three Big Ten titles in his first five seasons ('49, '51 and '52). It was also Combes who led the Fighting Illini to three third-place finishes in the NCAA Tournament in the four-year period from 1949-52. The squad won 79 of the 100 games during those four years. Illinois' 1952 Final Four appearance was the first officially recognized Final Four and the only Final Four appearance Illinois made until 1989. Until Lou Henson broke the record in 1990, Combes' 316 wins were the most wins ever by an Illinois head basketball coach.

Head Coach Harv Schmidt (7 years, 89-77, .536)

Harv Schmidt, a former all-time great player at Illinois, returned to his alma mater in 1968 after serving as an assistant at New Mexico for three years. Within three years of his arrival, he had brought Illinois back to among the elite programs in the Big Ten. The beginning of his tenure marked what possibly was the high-water mark in fan enthusiasm. Illinois led the nation in attendance in 1970, averaging 16,128 per home contest, as students routinely camped out for tickets outside the newly opened, state-of-the-art Assembly Hall.

Head Coach Gene Bartow (1 year, 8-18, .308)

Brought to Illinois to continue the magical rebuilding jobs he had undertaken at Valparaiso and Memphis State, Gene Bartow was counted on by Athletic Director Cecil Coleman to restore the successful level of play fans had become accustomed to in the past few decades. However, Bartow's stay in Champaign was short-lived, lasting only one year and producing an 8-18 record. The lure away from Illinois was a strong one for Bartow; he was hired away by UCLA to replace legendary Bruin coach John Wooden.

Head Coach Lou Henson (21 years, 423-224, .654)

Lou Henson, the all-time winningest coach in Illinois basketball history, came to Champaign-Urbana after successful head coaching stints at Hardin-Simmons and New Mexico State Universities. He finished his career No. 12 on the NCAA all-time victory list with 663 wins. Illinois became a national power under Henson, being selected to the NCAA tournament 11 times. The highlight of the postseason competition came in 1989 when the spectacular Flying Illini team won a school-record 31 contests and advanced to the Final Four. Henson's Illini were also seeded among the top four in their regional for six consecutive years (1984-89) for the second-longest such streak (next to North Carolina) ever. Illinois finished in the upper division in the Big Ten nine consecutive seasons (1983-91), and had 11 straight years of producing a plus-500 Big Ten record from 1981 to 1991, the fifth-longest streak of that kind in Big Ten history. Henson led the Illini to a 1984 Big Ten co-championship and No. 1 national ranking in 1989. He coached Illinois to nine straight 20-win seasons from 1983 to 1991 and finished his career as the third-winningest coach in Big Ten history with 214 victories.

Head Coach Lon Kruger (3 years, 59-38, .608)

Lon Kruger was named the 14th men's basketball coach at the University of Illinois on March 21, 1996, succeeding Lou Henson, who retired after 21 seasons at Illinois. Kruger came to Champaign-Urbana after six seasons at Florida, where he led the Gators to their first Final Four in 1994. His previous head coaching experience includes a four year stint at his alma mater Kansas State (1987-90) and at Pan American (1983-86). In 1998, Kruger led the Illini to a share of the Big Ten championship, the school's first since 1984. He guided Illinois to consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances in 1997 and 1998.

Illinois Tradition

A black and white photograph of four Illinois Fighting Illini basketball players standing on a basketball court, surrounded by numerous trophies. The players are wearing jerseys with "FIGHTING ILLINI" and their numbers (12, 11, 15, 10). The background shows the "BIG TEN" logo on the court floor. The players are holding various trophies, including a large one in the center and several smaller ones on the sides. The court floor has "BIG TEN" and "ILLINOIS" written on it. The players are wearing white socks and white sneakers. The trophies are of various sizes and shapes, some with basketballs on top. The overall scene is a celebratory moment for the team.

Over the course of 93 years, the University of Illinois has enjoyed the creation of a stellar basketball tradition that includes Final Four appearances, All-Americans, Academic All-Americans, NBA first round draft selections, and a place among the nation's elite basketball programs year-in and year-out. The University of Illinois basketball tradition got its start when the Big Ten Conference officially began playing basketball in 1906. At the time the member schools of the "Intercollegiate Conference of Faculty Representatives", or "Western Conference", or "Big Ten Conference" as it was known were University of Chicago, University of Illinois, University of Michigan, University of Minnesota, Northwestern University, Purdue University, and the University of Wisconsin.

1906-1909 (34-30)

The first official game in Illinois history was a 71-4 romp over Champaign High School in Urbana on January 12, 1906. The first four years of Illinois hoops saw four different coaches who combined for a 34-30 record. In the first season of Illinois basketball the Illini went 6-8, 3-6 in the Big Ten under head coach Elwood Brown. The following season the Illini's record dropped to 1-10, 0-8 under F.L. Pickney. A new coach, Fletcher Lane, and a new season arrived in 1907-08 and the Illini posted a 20-8 record and went 6-5 in the conference. Despite a successful season, the Illini underwent its fourth coaching change in as many years and new mentor Herb V. Juul stayed two seasons (1909 and 1910) and was 7-6 his inaugural year and 5-4 the next season.

**Big Ten grows to eight teams with the addition of Iowa in the 1907 season.**

1910-1919 (95-48)

The new decade brought the program an extended taste of success. In the 1910s Illinois won two Big Ten titles, in 1915 and 1917, and compiled a 95-48 record including a perfect 16-0 record in 1915. That 1915 season was the third in the eight year tenure of head coach Ralph Jones and it produced the only unbeaten season in Illini history and the first Big Ten title for the Illinois basketball program. Following the perfect season the Illinois team was named national champions by the Helms Foundation. Jones' 1915 team scored twice as many points as its opponents and won the conference title by three games over Chicago.

The arrival of the Woods brothers in 1915 had a lot to do with the success of this era. Guard Ray Woods was named first team All-America all three years he competed (1915-17), and brother Ralf, a forward, led the team in scoring in both 1916 and 1917. His consistency at the free throw line led to the establishment of the Ralf Woods Award, which is still given annually to the Fighting Illini player with the best free-throw percentage.

Illinois followed up its conference championship season with a second place finish after posting a 13-3 record. The Illini dropped two games to Northwestern and one to eventual champion Wisconsin, but the first loss to the Wildcats was the Illini's first-ever overtime game as Northwestern scored two points in the overtime period to beat Illinois, 23-21, Feb. 12, 1916, at what is now the Kenney Gym Annex.

In 1918, Jones and the Illini picked up their second conference championship crown in three years as Illinois went 13-3 overall and 10-2 in league games. The 1917 team featured a starting guard named George Halas. The professional football pioneer and former Chicago Bear owner and head coach was known on the team for his gritty defense and he was named captain of the 1918 squad before entering the armed forces January 18, 1918.

1920-29 (99-68)

Jones led the Illini into the decade of the 1920s and started off this period with a 9-4 record and a third place finish in the Big Ten in 1920. The following season a new mentor, Frank Winters, was in Champaign-Urbana and his two-year stay produced an 11-7 mark in 1921 and a 14-5 record in 1922.

TIMELINE

Illinois Athletic Director George Huff replaced Winters with J. Craig Ruby, whose 14-year tenure at Illinois is the third longest in program history. In his first three seasons Ruby led the Illini to a 31-18 record and a share of the conference title with Wisconsin in 1924. In 1924, Illinois was 11-6 overall and 8-4 in the Big Ten.

After winning Illinois' third conference title in 1924, Ruby's Illini matched the win mark the following year (11-6, 8-4) but dropped to third place in the standings. The Illini opened the 1926 season on Dec. 12, 1925 against Butler in the newly built men's gymnasium, which would later be renamed George Huff Gymnasium after Illinois Athletic Director George Huff. Illinois won its first game at the new gym, 23-22. The remainder of the decade saw Illinois go 10-7 in both 1927 and 1929 taking fourth and fifth in the league standings, and 9-8 in 1926. The only losing season in Ruby's Illinois career came with a 5-12 mark in 1928 and it is one of only eight losing seasons in the University's 93-year history.

1930-39 (120-61)

In the decade of the 1930s Illinois picked up Big Ten championships number four and five in 1935 and 1937. In 1935 the Illini squad was 5-3 after its first eight games, but rallied in the closing stretch of the season and won its last four contests to grab a share of the conference title.

A new star on the playing floor emerged in the 1935 season with the addition of Harry Combes to the roster. Combes, a three-year letterwinner, starred for the Illini from 1935-37 and later returned to his alma mater as head coach of the Illini in 1948. Combes helped lead Illinois to both its Big Ten titles in the 1930s.

Ruby closed out his coaching tenure in 1935-36 leading Illinois to a 13-6 record, 7-5 in the Big Ten, and third place in the league standings.

The man chosen to replace Ruby was Douglas Mills. In his 11-year tenure as head coach, Mills established himself as the first coach in Illinois history to win or share three Big Ten championships.

In his first season, 1936-37, Mills' Illini squad captured a share of the Big Ten championship with a 10-2 league record. The Illini were 14-4 overall. Following that season the men's gymnasium got a new name, George Huff Gymnasium, after former Illinois athletic director George Huff, who passed away on October 1, 1936. During the championship season future major league baseball hall of famer Lou Boudreau led the team in scoring, 8.7 ppg.

1940-49 (150-56)

The decade of the 1940s brought much success to Illinois basketball. Head Coach Douglas Mills led the Illini to consecutive Big Ten titles in 1942 and 1943. The Illini would add another league championship under Harry Combes in 1949.

The Illini were the 13th winningest Division I team in the nation in the 1940s. Illinois' 150-57 record and .725 winning percentage was the best in the Big Ten. In 1941, Mills added to his coaching duties when he was named the school's director of athletics. That same year Art Mathisen arrived in Champaign in what would soon become the creation of the famed "Whiz Kids". In 1942, joining Mathisen were Jack Smiley, Andy Phillip, Gene Vance, and Ken Menke who captured the attention of the entire nation while winning back-to-back conference titles and combining for a 35-6 record, 25-2 in the Big Ten over those two seasons. To this day the "Whiz Kids" remain one of the most storied teams in Illinois history. They dazzled crowds everywhere averaging 58 points per game, while most teams were averaging in the low 40s.

The team was broken up March 1, 1943 when all five starters headed to active duty in the armed forces. All but Mathisen went on the play professionally, and Phillip became a member of the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame.

After the departure of the Whiz Kids, Mills faced a major rebuilding job. Mills' closed out his time as head coach at Illinois in the 1947 season. That mark coincided with the return of the "Whiz Kids" from military service. A crowd of 7,785, the largest home crowd to that point in Illinois history jammed into Huff Gym to see their return on Dec. 6, 1946 against Cornell. The Whiz Kids played only the first half of the game building a 49-13 lead, and the Illini won 87-39. The Illini opened league play with two losses and dug their way back to a second place finish by winning eight of their last 10 games.

Illinois Basketball History

After retiring from coaching, Mills retained his position as athletic director until 1966.

Former Illini Harry Combes was re-associated with the program when he was selected to replace Mills as head coach of the Fighting Illini. He had previously served as head coach at Champaign High School. In his first nine seasons at Illinois, he won three Big Ten titles and compiled an amazing record of 164-44 overall (.788) and 94-30 in the Big Ten (.758).

Combes first team at Illinois in 1947-48, led by Dike Eddleman and Jack Burmaster, set a Big Ten scoring record with 1,530 points, en route to a 15-5 overall record and 7-5 league finish. His second year as head coach Combes collected his first of four Big Ten championships as a head coach. He finished his Illinois career with a total of six championships as a player and coach.

The four-year period between 1949-52 brought the University of Illinois three Big Ten championships, three 20-win seasons, and a 42-10 Big Ten mark. The 1949 squad, led by Eddleman, Bill Erickson, and Walter Osterkorn, was Illinois' first 20-game winner since 1908, finishing 21-4. That year, Illinois beat Yale, 71-67, to advance to a national semifinal showdown with Kentucky at Madison Square Garden in New York City. The Illini fell to the Wildcats, 76-47, forcing Illinois to defeat Oregon State, 57-53, in Seattle for third place.

**Big Ten drops from 10 to nine teams with the departure of Chicago from the league in 1947.**

1950-59 (165-64)

Two of the first three years in this decade saw Illinois bring home Big Ten championships. Illinois won the title in 1951 with a 13-1 league record and produced another 20-win season with a 22-5 record. That season featured a rematch with Kentucky, which had downed the Illini in the national semifinals in 1949. Illinois beat Columbia, 79-71, and N.C. State, 84-70, to get to the national semifinals and a rematch with the Wildcats. In a heart-breaking loss, Kentucky nipped Illinois 76-74 on a shot by Wildcat sub Shelby Linville with 12 seconds remaining in the game. The Illini collected third place nationally by beating Oklahoma A&M, 61-46, in Minneapolis.

The 1952 season brought Illinois another Big Ten title and introduced John Kerr, a center from Tilden Tech in Chicago. He began his three-year reign as Illinois' top scorer with a sophomore-record 357 points. The Illini recorded a 22-4 overall mark and went 12-2 in the conference. Once again, Illinois advanced to the national semifinals and ran into underdog St. John's. The Redmen fought their way to a 61-59 victory in the NCAA's first Final Four, in Seattle. Illinois took another third place award home after beating Santa Clara, 67-64 behind 26 points by Kerr. The 1954 season was highlighted when Kerr shattered Illinois' single-season scoring record by tallying 556 points in his senior year. Kerr's 1,299 career points in three seasons currently rank 14th on the all-time Illinois scoring list. He held first place in Illini career scoring until Dave Downey passed him in 1963. After his Illinois career came to an end, Kerr departed on a 12-year professional career and then became the first head coach of the Chicago Bulls in 1966.

Once again the Illini hoopsters led the Big Ten in wins for a decade with a 165-64 record in the 1950s. The Illini's winning percentage, .721, ranked 11th nationally. On Dec. 17, 1956, Illinois defeated San Francisco 62-33, snapping the Dons' 51 game regular season win streak. Associated Press began its basketball poll in 1949 with UPI adding its poll in 1951 and from 1951-56 the Illini finished the season ranked in the top 20 nationally every year. Illinois' highest final ranking in the 1950s was second in both polls in 1952.

1960-69 (145-95)

The 1960s produced Big Ten championship number 11 for Illinois in 1963. That season the Illini were 20-6 overall, 11-3 in the conference. That season senior Dave Downey led the team in scoring as he had the previous two seasons and he moved into first on the all-time scoring list. Downey also set the school record for points in a game, which still stands, with 53 in a road loss to Indiana on Feb. 16.

Illinois was a game back of first place in the league standings with only two games remaining when the Assembly Hall opened its doors on March 4, 1963. Illinois' first game at the Hall was an exciting 79-73 victory over Northwestern before 16,137 fans to stay within a game of first place Ohio State. After Illinois edged Iowa, 73-69, in the last game of the season, the Fighting Illini would need an overtime loss two hours later by the Buckeyes at Indiana to share the title.

The 1965 season was highlighted by Illinois' season opening 118-83 victory over defending national champion UCLA at the Assembly Hall. Combes called the game, "one of the best an Illinois team has ever played."

Combes closed out his Illini coaching career in 1967 with a 12-12 record and seventh place Big Ten finish. The season was highlighted by a 98-97 victory over No. 3 Kentucky in Lexington on Dec. 8.

Another former Illini, Harv Schmidt, replaced Combes and led the team into the 1970s. Schmidt's Illini went 11-13 in 1968 and rebounded to a 19-5 record in 1969 and a second place Big Ten finish.

1970-79 (129-129)

The decade of the 1970s brought two coaching changes, the second one brought Lou Henson, who would become the longest tenured coach in Illinois history. In 1970, Illinois set an NCAA attendance record, selling out all 11 home games for an average of 16,128 fans per game.

Although the Illini recorded a losing mark in 1971 (11-12), that season welcomed Nick Weatherspoon from Canton, Ohio. "Spoon" stepped right into the starting lineup and led the team in rebounds. The next two years he led the team in scoring and rebounding before becoming a first round draft selection and spending eight seasons in the NBA.

Harv Schmidt concluded his Illinois coaching career in 1974 as the Illini's record dropped to 5-18 and last place in the Big Ten standings. The following season Gene Bartow served as head coach, but left to take the head coaching job at UCLA after only one season. After Bartow's departure following the 1975 campaign, the University picked New Mexico Head Coach Lou Henson to bring success back to the Illinois program. He did just that, taking a team that won 14 games in his inaugural season to a 19-11 record within just four years. The last years of the 1970s signaled the arrival of Eddie Johnson and Mark Smith, two players who would lead the team into the 1980s and pave the way for Illinois' return to national prominence.

In 1979, Illinois finished the seventh in the Big Ten, but went 19-11 overall, including ascension to No. 2 in the national polls after starting the year 15-0. That year, Illinois upset top-ranked Michigan State and Magic Johnson, 57-55, in one of the school's most memorable games. That year, Illinois also led the nation in field-goal percentage defense (.404).

1980-89 (233-90)

Henson returned everyone for the 1980 campaign and the team gave the head coach his first of 11, 20-win seasons at Illinois. That year, Illinois made its first post-season appearance since 1963, finishing third in the NIT.

In 1981, Illinois made more strides in its return to the national spotlight with a 21-8 record, a third place Big Ten finish and an invitational to the NCAA Tournament. The team received a first-round bye in the NCAA Tournament and beat Wyoming, 67-65, in Los Angeles to advance to the regionals in Salt Lake City, where Illinois lost to Kansas State, 57-52.

That year, the Fighting Illini led the Big Ten in scoring for the second consecutive season and were again led by Johnson and Smith. Guards Craig Tucker and Derek Harper arrived to add backcourt punch, and Harper began his Illini career being named first team Freshman All-America by ESPN and ABC.

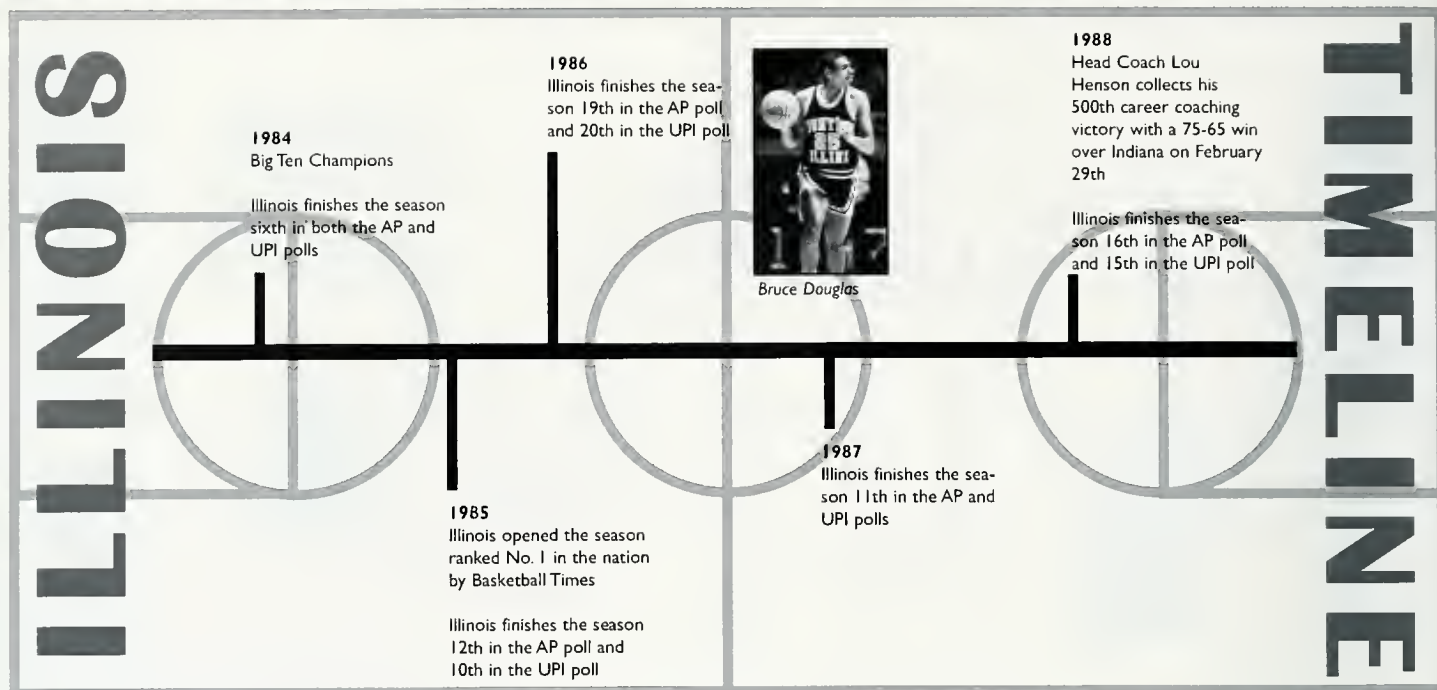

The 1982 season brought Illinois another post-season appearance, in the NIT, and an 18-11 record. Harper led the Big Ten in assists and steals.

One of Illinois' best groups arrived on campus in 1983. Guards Bruce Douglas and Doug Altenberger, and forward Scott Meents and Efrem Winters joined sophomores George Montgomery and Anthony Welch to form the nucleus for a team that would win 95 games during the next four seasons.

Illinois Basketball History

In 1983, the Fighting Illini became the nation's 25th team to cap the 1,000-win mark with a 72-70 victory over Texas A&M in the Great Alaska Shootout. Later that year Harper was selected first team All-Big Ten, falling one vote shy of being a unanimous pick, before leaving school early for the NBA draft. He was a first round selection of the Dallas Mavericks.

The 1984 season brought Illinois its 12th Big Ten championship in a season where Illinois had four overtime games including a four-overtime 75-66 victory over Michigan. The next game was a two-overtime win at Iowa, Henson's 400th victory as a college head coach. The Illini recorded a 26-5 mark and were 15-3 in Big Ten play, tying Purdue for the league title. The 1984 season also marked Illinois' first back-to-back 20 win seasons since 1951-52. The Illini would go on to record a total of nine consecutive 20-win seasons from 1983-91.

The Illini started out the 1985 season ranked No. 1 nationally by Basketball Times in its preseason poll. Illinois made a return trip to the NCAA Tournament where the Illini advanced to the Sweet 16.

In 1984-87, Illinois' stingy defense ranked first in the Big Ten allowing only 54.9 points in 1984, 55.7 in 1985, 63.3 in 1986, and 70.2 in 1987. In 1984-87, Illinois also ranked first in field goal defense, and the Illini were first in three-point defense in 1987.

Junior college transfer Ken Norman highlighted the 1986 season as he set the school record for single season field-goal percentage (.641). The next season saw the addition of an outstanding group of young players to the roster. Guards Steve Bardo, Kendall Gill, and Larry Smith joined forward Nick Anderson in a highly-touted recruiting class. This group produced another 20-win season (23-8) and a trip to the NCAA Tournament, where Illinois was beaten 68-67 by Austin Peay in arguably the school's most shocking upset.

The 1988 season brought Henson his 500th career victory laid the foundation for what would be an incredible history making season in 1989. The 1989 team may very well have been the most talented team ever assembled at Illinois. The players known as the "Flying Illini", included all the important pieces of 1988 (Kenny Battle, Gill, Bardo, Lowell Hamilton, Anderson and Smith) as well as junior college All-American P.J. Bowman and former high school All-American Marcus Liberty.

The team shattered most of its all-time records including points in a season (3,110), most steals in a season (341), and most wins in a season (31). The Fighting Illini won their first 16 games and were ranked No. 2 in the nation going into a nationally televised game against Georgia Tech, whom Illinois had already beaten, 80-75, at the Rainbow Classic in December. The Yellow Jackets led, 47-31, but Illinois managed to surge back to force overtime, eventually needing two extra periods to win the game. Along with the No. 1 ranking the next day came some bad news. Illinois' catalyst, Gill, had broken a bone in his foot and would miss the next 12 games. Hurt by the loss of Gill, Illinois lost three of the next four games and its No. 1 ranking. The Illini rallied to finish second in the Big Ten with a 14-4 record and with Gill back in the lineup, the Illini were awarded a No. 1 seed in the Midwest region of the NCAA Tournament. After rolling to victories over McNeese State and Ball State at the Hoosier Dome, a power-packed regional in Minneapolis with Missouri, Louisville and Syracuse, stood in the way of Illinois' trip to the Final Four.

Louisville fell victim to Illinois, losing 83-69, which set up a regional final matchup with Syracuse. The Fighting Illini held off Syracuse to advance to the Final Four in Seattle where Illinois faced Michigan, a team it had beat twice already in 1989, in the national semifinals. Despite Battle's 29-point, 11-rebound effort Illinois fell to eventual national champion Michigan, 83-81.

1990-98 (150-92)

Coming off the Final Four season, Illinois went 21-8 overall, 11-7 in the Big Ten in 1990. Gill, a senior, became the first player since Norman in 1987 to average 20 ppg and he was named a first-team All-American by UPI. Gill led the Big Ten in scoring and he was a finalist for the John Wooden Player of the Year Award. He was the fifth overall pick in the NBA draft that summer, going to the Charlotte Hornets.

Going into the 1991 season, Illinois, faced with the loss of Gill, Bardo and Liberty, who declared himself eligible for the NBA draft a year early, was picked to finish as low as ninth in the Big Ten by some publications. But, junior forward Andy Kaufmann burst onto the scene scoring 660 points, the second largest single-season total in Illinois history. He and the Illini proved the preseason expectations wrong by going 21-10 and finishing third in the Big Ten.

Illinois' consecutive 20-win season streak was snapped in 1992 when the Illini posted its first losing record in 14 years, going 13-15. After sitting out a season, Kaufmann returned for the 1992-93 campaign and helped lead Illinois to a 19-13 record and trip to the NCAA Tournament. The following season, Illinois again advanced to the NCAA Tournament and in the process, senior Deon Thomas broke a 13-year old record and became the school's all-time leading scorer. Thomas scored his record-breaking 1,693rd point in the championship game of the Illini/Pepsi Classic against American and he went on to finish his career with 2,129 points.

In 1994 a young upstart freshman, Kiwane Garris, would begin his assault on the all-time scoring list. He notched 446 points as a freshman and would be the catalyst on the Illini team over the next few years.

After advancing to the NCAA Tournament in 1995, Illinois extended its run on postseason play with a berth in the 1996 NIT. In 1996, the Illini started the season 11-1 before losing Garris to injury. Without its leader, the Illini dropped its first five Big Ten games. Garris returned, but was never 100 percent and junior forward Jerry Hester missed games with a severely sprained ankle. The Illini finished the 1996 season 18-13 overall, 7-11 in the Big Ten. But more importantly the 1996 season marked the end of the most successful era in Illinois basketball when Lou Henson announced his retirement before the end of the season. In his 21 years at Illinois Henson notched 423 victories and guided the Illini to 11 NCAA Tournament appearances. The Okay, Okla. native coached Illinois to 11, 20-win seasons and finished his career as the third-winningest coach in Big Ten history with 214 league victories.

On March 21, 1996 a new era in Illinois basketball began when Director of Athletics Ron Guenther introduced Lon Kruger as the University's 14th men's basketball coach. Kruger came to Illinois from the University of Florida and carried a list of impressive credentials, including guiding Florida to the Final Four in 1994.

In only his first year at Illinois, Kruger guided Illinois to a 22-10 record and the second round of the NCAA Tournament. His 22 wins in 1997 are the most by a coach in his first season at Illinois. Over the course of the season Illinois defeated five ranked opponents, including No. 7 Minnesota, 96-90, at the Assembly Hall. Illinois also traveled to Bloomington and handed Indiana a 78-74 loss, the first win for Illinois at Assembly Hall in Bloomington since 1990.

During the course of the year, Garris etched his name in the Illinois record book with one of the best season performances by any Illini player in history. He finished his career second on the all-time scoring list with 1,948 points and he set the single-season record for free throws made and attempted. Garris averaged 19.4 points and missed being the Big Ten's leading scorer by three one-hundredths of a point.

In 1998, Kruger did the unthinkable as he took a team picked to finish seventh in the Big Ten and guided the Illini to a share of its first Big Ten title since 1984. On the way to the league crown, Illinois went 5-0 against Indiana, Iowa, and Michigan for the first time in school history the Illini had gone undefeated against those teams during the course of a season.

Illinois advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament after earning a No. 5 seed in the West Regional. The Illini defense was the Big Ten's best as Illinois finished the year first in scoring defense, field-goal defense and three-point defense in league games.

In October 1998, Illinois moved into a state-of-the-art basketball practice facility, the Richard T. Ubben Basketball Complex. The facility, which houses the coaches offices and practice gym, also features a weight room, training room, video review room, players' lounge and locker rooms.

The Illini closed out the 1999 season with an amazing run at the Big Ten Tournament title. After entering the tournament as the 11th-seeded team, Illinois reeled off three straight victories over top 25 ranked teams before losing in the championship game to second ranked Michigan State. Illini freshman Cory Bradford was the Big Ten's Freshman of the Year and was also selected to the All-Tournament team.

Illinois Wooden Award Nominees

The John Wooden Award, first awarded in 1976, is presented annually to an outstanding basketball player. The award, named after the famous UCLA coach is sponsored by the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

Twelve candidates are selected by the club's National Advisory board, according to the award's criteria, which includes a 2.0 cumulative grade point average. The winner is selected by votes from 1,000 sportscasters and writers from each of the 50 states.

1987 Ken Norman
1990 Kendall Gill

Kenny Battle Award

The Kenny Battle Award honors the former Fighting Illini forward who was known for his tremendous amount of effort exerted in games, as well as practices. The winner is chosen by the players and the coaches.

Big Ten Medal of Honor

In 1914, the Big Ten Conference endowed a Medal of Honor, to be awarded annually at each institution to the student demonstrating proficiency in scholarship and academics. Beginning in 1982, a woman athlete from each institution has also been awarded the Conference Medal of Honor in the 76-year history of the award, 14 Fighting Illini basketball players have earned the award, including Edward A. Williford, the University of Illinois' first recipient of the award. There has been one father-son UI Medal of Honor duo, Lee Sentman (track in 1931 and his son Lee Sentman III (fencing) in 1958.

The following is the list of Illinois basketball players who have won the Big Ten Medal of Honor.

1915	Edward A. Williford	1943	Edwin S. Parker

Big Ten Conference

The Big Ten—The nation's most outstanding conference fields the nation's best in basketball year-in and year-out. Each year the Big Ten is tops in attendance and is among the leaders in number of teams receiving bids to the NCAA Tournament and number of teams ranked in the top 25 during the season.

Tops In Attendance

For the 23rd consecutive year, the Big Ten Conference led all NCAA conferences in home attendance for men's basketball. The league's attendance mark in 1998-99 (2,204,556) established an NCAA record, breaking the previous record from 1997-98 (2,166,264), also set by the Big Ten. The Big Ten placed eight teams in the top 25 nationally for home attendance (Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan State, Minnesota, Ohio State, Purdue, Wisconsin).

Postseason Play

Seven teams in the NCAA Tournament... Four advance to the Sweet 16... Michigan State and Ohio State march to the Final Four. What a postseason for the Big Ten! In addition to the seven teams that earned a spot in the Big Dance, Northwestern finished its season with a berth in the NIT.

Since the NCAA Tournament expanded to 64 teams in 1985, the Big Ten has recorded a 121-84 mark, with champions coming in 1987 (Indiana) and 1989 (Michigan). Since

Big Ten Chronology of Membership

- 1895: Chicago, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, Northwestern, Purdue, Wisconsin (charter members)
- 1899: Indiana, Iowa joined
- 1908: Michigan withdrew
- 1912: Ohio State joined
- 1918: Michigan rejoined
- 1946: Chicago withdrew
- 1949: Michigan State joined
- 1990: Penn State joined

1985, the Big Ten has been represented in the Final Four nine times, including three years with multiple teams advancing to the national semifinals (ILLINOIS and Michigan in 1989, Michigan and Indiana in 1992, Michigan State and Ohio State in 1999).

Since the first tournament in 1939, the Big Ten has a 240-142 record and league teams have advanced to the championship game 17 times, with a Big Ten team emerging as the champion nine times. League schools have accounted for 37 appearances in the Final Four. The Big Ten is the all-time leader with 150 bids to the NCAA Tournament.

Highly Ranked

From day one of the 1998-99 season, the Big Ten had at least three teams ranked in the top 25, with the number growing to seven during the course of the year. No other conference in the nation boasted seven ranked teams in 1998-99 and the Big Ten held that number in the rankings for eight weeks. Four different teams cracked the top 10 with Michigan State finishing the year ranked second nationally. Indiana, Purdue and Ohio State also spent time in the top 10 during the year.

The University of Illinois media guide is your source for information on the Illini basketball program. The Athletic Public Relations staff is here to help you in your coverage of Illinois basketball and don't hesitate to call any member of our staff if you need assistance during the course of the year.

Assembly Hall

All media will enter the arena through the Northeast gate and will park in the Northeast lot, located on the corner of Kirby and Fourth Streets. After you enter the Assembly Hall concourse, turn left to access the media room. We will have phone lines available in the media room where all press can work post-game. There are also two phone lines located on press row, floor level, for media use but all media are encouraged to work from the press room. After some games the Assembly Hall stage crew will be setting up for another event and the press row area will be taken down immediately following some games.

Before every home game a meal will be provided in the media room 1 1/2 hours prior to tip-off. You may also secure game programs, media guides and pre-game notes in the media room beginning two hours prior to tip-off.

Courtside Photography

All photographers must work from within the designated areas behind the baselines of the playing court. The University of Illinois follows NCAA and Big Ten guidelines regarding event photography. Photo locations are first-come, first-serve, but in the event of heavy demand for photo credentials for a particular game, shooting locations will be assigned.

Strobes—Photographers wishing to use strobe equipment at Illinois home games must notify the Illinois Sports Information staff at least one week in advance of the game for which they are requesting. There is a charge for installation and/or use of such equipment. A maximum of two strobe units may be used for any individual game. All photographs are to be used in coverage of Illinois basketball and cannot be sold for any commercial enterprise benefiting the photographer.

Credentials

Any member of the media wishing to cover the Fighting Illini this season must request, in writing, credentials from Barbara Butler in the Athletic Public Relations Office. All requests must be in writing on your company letterhead and be either mailed or faxed to Barbara Butler.

Media Information

NO credential requests will be accepted over the phone.

Due to limitations in seating numbers, all requests will be prioritized according to published circulation numbers. Be specific when requesting the type of credential needed, either press or photo. Any non-working people in possession of a media credential will be asked to turn over the credential and leave the press area. No children are permitted in the press seating areas. Media agencies that violate this policy will not be issued credentials for future games.

Season requests must be received by November 1.

Single-game requests must be made at least 10 days prior to the date of the game.

Road Game Credentials

Illinois media wishing to cover the Illini on the road should direct their credential request to the sports information director of the host institution. Please see below for credential requests for neutral site games.

Parking

A limited number of media parking passes are available for the 1999-2000 men's basketball games at the Assembly Hall. The issuance of passes will be done on a priority basis with media who cover the University of Illinois basketball team on a regular basis holding the highest priority. Requests will then be prioritized according to circulation for newspapers and coverage area for radio and television. A replacement pass WILL NOT BE ISSUED IF THE ORIGINAL IS LOST. To avoid game traffic, media are encouraged to arrive at least 45 minutes prior to tip-off.

Telephones

Charge-a-call lines will be provided in the working press room and on press row. Any individual wishing to order phone lines for the season or for a single game should direct the request to Ameritech (800) 321-8152 during regular business hours. Post-game, all media are asked to utilize the phone lines in the working press room because the press row seating area on the floor will be taken down immediately following several games in preparation for the next event.

Fax-On-Demand

The University of Illinois will again utilize the Info Connection fax-on-demand system service. All media wishing to use this service must set up a pin number through info-connection. If you do not have a PIN, you can obtain one by calling Pivotal Communications at 770-399-0096.

Illinois box scores following home games will be available on fax-on-demand approximately 20 minutes following the conclusion of each game.

Updated Illinois statistics will be available by 10:00 a.m. central time the morning after each game, except when traveling by commercial means and in that case the stats will be updated later that day.

The University of Illinois will not be faxing its basketball releases to media personnel. All persons wishing to receive releases, stats, or box scores should register to use the fax-on-demand system or retrieve the information off our web site at www.fightingillini.com.

To access the fax-on-demand system dial 770-558-6000 from the handset of your fax machine. When prompted, enter your pin number. The Big Ten passcode is 282 and the Illinois document numbers are listed below.

FAX-ON-DEMAND CODES

- 1220 Entire Release (includes notes/stats)
- 1221 Statistics/Game-by-Game Results
- 1222 Roster & Schedule
- 1223 Last Home Game Box Score

www.fightingillini.com

Illinois releases, statistics and live radio coverage of the Fighting Illini games are available on the official University of Illinois athletic web site, www.fightingillini.com. In addition to men's basketball, live audio is available on the web for football, women's basketball, volleyball and the coaches' radio show broadcasts.

Basketball Practice

The Illinois basketball team will practice at 2:30 p.m. in the afternoon on weekdays and practice times for Saturdays will be listed as TBA. All practices will be held at the Ubben Basketball Practice Facility, except for isolated times when the team will practice at the Assembly Hall. Please note that the locker room area, weight room and training room are off limits to members of the media. In order to avoid congestion on the floor area, media who attend practice are asked to watch from the balcony area on the second floor that overlooks the court.

Interview Policies

All interview requests for Illinois players, Coach Kruger and members of the Illini coaching staff need to be set up with Barbara Butler in the Illinois Athletic Public Relations Office. Please give at least 24 hours advance notice for interview requests. Coach Kruger, assistant coaches and players will be available for interviews following practice. We will also have a player available on Coach Kruger's teleconferences, if class schedules allow. There will be no interviews conducted prior to practice.

Post-game Interviews

The University of Illinois will utilize the media room, located on the mezzanine level on the Northeast side of the arena, for post-game interviews. Coaches and players from both teams will be brought to this area for interviews. If you need to interview an Illinois player who has not been requested for the interview room, please make specific arrangements with a member of the Illinois Athletic Public Relations staff. Player requests for the visiting team should be made through that school's Basketball SID.

The Lon Kruger TV Show

This weekly 30-minute television program, hosted by Chris Widlic of WCIA-TV in Champaign, features game highlights and interviews with coaches, players and others involved with the Illinois basketball program. Viewers should consult their local listings for the dates and times of the telecasts.

Lon Kruger Radio Show

The Lon Kruger Show is a weekly call-in radio show aired statewide on the Illinois Sports Network. The show is hosted by Illini play-by-play announcer Jim Turpin and airs Monday's from 6:05-7 p.m. beginning on December 6. In addition to the studio shows, the radio show will move to different sorority and fraternity houses on campus.

Illini Sports Network

The 51-station Illini Sports Network once again will bring Fighting Illini basketball to fans across the state with Jim Turpin and Loren Tate calling the action from courtside.

Jim Turpin serves as the play-by-play voice of Illini basketball, a role he has had for most of the past 41 years. A 1961 graduate of the University of Illinois, Turpin has recently retired as general manager of WDWS and WHMS Radio in Champaign. He will also host "Lon Kruger Live," the network's weekly state-wide radio call-in show with the coach of the Illini. Additionally, Turpin serves as co-host of the popular Saturday Sportsline on WDWS/WHMS Radio. Turpin is a past winner of the Illinois Broadcasters Association's Silver Dome Award, given to down state Illinois' best play-by-play broadcaster.

Loren Tate is in his third decade providing color analysis on Fighting Illini basketball radio broadcasts. Tate is the former executive sports editor of the Champaign-Urbana News-Gazette and in his retirement he still covers the Illini football and basketball teams, writing columns for the paper.

Prior to assuming his position with The News-Gazette, Tate served as sports editor of the Hammond Times for 11 years. A 1953 University of Illinois graduate, Tate's career also includes extensive experience in the electronic media. He was sports director for WICD-TV from 1969-79. Currently, he co-hosts the Saturday Sportsline talk show with Turpin on WDWS/WHMS Radio.

The Illini Sports Network is managed by the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics, including management, distribution, sales operations, affiliate relations and programming. Illini Sports Network programming includes Illinois football, men's and women's basketball, volleyball, and baseball, along with the popular "Illini Today" series, and the coaches' live weekly call-in shows. "Lon Kruger Live" can be heard on Monday nights from 6-7 p.m.

ISN2 debuted in the fall of 1997, featuring alternative sports programming including "I on the Illini," a weekly 15-minute coaches show featuring all 18 sport programs. ISN2 also features expanded women's basketball and volleyball game coverage.

- Under Lon Kruger, Illinois won the 1998 Big Ten Championship and advanced to the 1999 Big Ten Tournament championship game.

- Kruger is the only coach in Illini history to lead Illinois to an undefeated record against Iowa, Michigan and Indiana in a single season. The Illini were 5-0 against those teams in 1998.

- Kruger's teams have earned a berth in the NCAA Tournament eight times. He guided Kansas State to the Elite Eight in 1988 and directed Florida to the Final Four in 1994. Under Kruger's direction, Illinois earned a berth in the 1997 and 1998 NCAA Tournaments and advanced to the second round.

- Lon Kruger's current NBA players include Mitch Richmond of the Washington Wizards and the MVP of the 1995 NBA All-Star game, and Andrew DeClercq of the Cleveland Cavaliers. Steve Henson, a former player under Kruger and current assistant coach at Illinois, spent several years in the NBA most recently playing with the Detroit Pistons, and former Illini Kiwane Garris was with the Denver Nuggets for part of the 1998 season.

- Lon Kruger is one of 14 Division I head coaches who have guided three different teams to the NCAA Tournament.

- Lon Kruger has recorded 20 win seasons at each of the four schools where he has coached.
